HALF OF RUSSIANS SUFFERING HUNGER UNDER BOLSHEVIKI

Report Is Brought by Members of British Labor Delegation Which Investigated Conditions—People of Moscow and Petrograd Support the Lenine Regime; Others Indifferent.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE STATES CASE IN REGARD TO WRANGEL

LONDON, June 10.—Fifty per cent of the people of soviet Russia are hungry, although everybody is getting a certain allowance of food, declared Benjamin Turner, member of the British labor delegation to Russia, in describing today conditions in that country as he observed them. Mr. Turner, with another delegate, Thomas Shaw, member of the House of Commons, returned to England yesterday.

The majority of the people of Moscow and Petrograd, he said, support the Bolshevik government. The rural population is not opposing the authorities, but is not fully in agreement with communism.

Premier Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons today that the Government had no responsibility in the new offensive of General Wrangel, commander of the Russian volunteer army, against the Bolsheviki in the Crimea, but that the sole responsibility rested with Wrangel.

The Premier also said that Great Britain was not assisting General Wrangel with war materials. The matter was brought up in the House by questions dealing with the Government's recent attempts to get the soviet to grant ameliorative conditions for Wrangel's forces.

The Bolsheviki have held up the forward movement begun in the Crimea early this week by the army of General Wrangel, who succeeded to the command of the remnant of the Denikine forces in Southern Russia, it is reported in Wednesday's official soviet statement received by wireless from Moscow today.

PARIS, June 10.—Polish troops are pursuing the retreating Bolsheviki between the Dnieper and Upper Beresina Rivers, according to a Havas dispatch from Zurich, which says there is confirmation that the red shock troops, which won local successes between May 14 and June 2, were exclusively commanded by German officers. These troops, the dispatch adds, are now in orderly retirement toward Politsk, methodically destroying everything in their march.

The rest of the Bolshevik division is reported to be fleeing in disorder, while the Polish army is approaching the lake region near the Upper Dvina.

WARSAW, June 10.—The Cabinet of Premier Skulski resigned Wednesday. The resignation of the Cabinet is understood to have been brought about chiefly by opposition to the Government's policy with regard to the creation of a buffer state between Poland and Russia.

PARIS, June 10.—The Bolsheviki are rapidly extending their operations in Persia, according to advices received by the French Foreign Office today. Teheran, the capital, is in danger of falling into the hands of the Bolsheviki in two or three days, it is declared. The Persian Government is organizing resistance.

The British, the advices state, have retired to "Manjil under Bolshevik pressure."

A Bolsheviki wireless dispatch received yesterday declared that a provisional government had been formed in Resht by the revolutionary leader Mirza Kutchuk, and that the British were hurriedly retreating towards Bagdad, having abandoned Resht without fighting. The British Indian troops were declared in this message to be opposed to fighting against the Persian revolutionists.

ACQUIRE HOLDINGS OF ISLAND TIMBER

Michigan Interests Purchase Thirteen Thousand Acres on West Coast From Rat Portage Lumber Company—

Michigan interests represented by Mr. John Blodgett, of Grand Rapids, have acquired a large tract of timber, part of valuable limits owned by the Rat Portage Lumber Company, on Vancouver Island. The deal involves some 13,000 acres in the southwestern corner of the Island, lying between Otter Point and Sheringham Point, and running along Tugwell Creek, in the Port Port Renfrew district. The amount involved is stated to be $400,000.

It is understood that it is the intention of the purchasers to construct a logging railway on the property and erect a mill there. Active cutting operations will be commenced as soon as the necessary plant is installed. The timber is chiefly fir, with some cedar.

Of late there has been great interest shown in Vancouver Island timber, a number of large transactions having been put through at various points.

The Rat Portage Lumber Company is stated to own some five billion feet of lumber in the Province, much of it on Vancouver Island.

HON. MR. HART SPEAKS OF HIS ERRAND EAST

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, passed through the city tonight on his way to Victoria. After his trip east, where he placed a loan while in Toronto for $2,000,000 for Provincial capital expenditure by public tender.

According to Hon. Mr. Hart, the money interests in Montreal and New York are feeling in a very conservative frame of mind at present, in view of the imposition of the luxury taxes and the efforts now being made to compress financial credits and stop speculation in commodities.

Under the circumstances, Hon. Mr. Hart said he felt he was pursuing the soundest policy in not borrowing beyond immediate needs and in having adopted the competitive system in order to secure the best market price under existing conditions.

DELEGATES ARE ENJOYING VISIT

Visiting Manufacturers Are Given Opportunity of Seeing Victoria — Entertainment Programme for Today

From the moment they stepped from the Vancouver boat yesterday afternoon at the C. P. R. dock, the delegates to the Coast convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association became participants in a programme of entertainment that will not be concluded until they bid goodbye to Victoria this afternoon and start on their return journey eastward.

The visitors were given an opportunity of seeing a good deal of Victoria yesterday afternoon, and in the evening witnessed a concentrated film digest of some of the Province's more important industries, so that from the educational standpoint, if from no other, the few hours of their visit here yesterday were successful.

Headed by their new president, the delegates were accompanied on the way over from Vancouver by a committee of Victoria manufacturers, led by Mr. J. O. Cameron, president of the Cameron Lumber Company. Although the steamer ran into wet weather on the way over, the visitors were agreeably impressed with the passage and were enthusiastic over the scenery encountered while steaming down the Gulf. "Nothing like it anywhere; I'll never forget it," remarked one of the Easterners, referring to what he had seen since leaving the Mainland.

Weather Ideal

At noon the overcast sky and drizzling rain indicated that the weather conditions would not be favorable for the first day's visit, but the sun broke through the clouds as the boat swung into the harbor, and the weather could not have been improved upon during the rest of the day.

Most of the delegates went direct to the Empress Hotel, where the majority are staying during their stay in Victoria. Here they were greeted by a committee representing the Victoria branch of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Mr. R. W. Mayhew, managing director of the Sidney Roofing Company, acted as chairman. A few minutes later the delegates were escorted to automobiles awaiting them outside the hotel, and they were then taken on a long tour of the Saanich peninsula, the country home of Mr. R. P. Butchart at Tod Inlet being the objective.

At Tod Inlet Gardens

The cars began to arrive at "Benvenuto" about 4 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Butchart welcomed the visitors and accompanied them on a walk around the gardens, now in the full bloom of Spring grandeur. Later, the delegates were entertained at tea, and then were brought back to the city by motor.

The majority of the delegates were guests at informal dinner parties as the hosts of Victoria manufacturers and business men. In the evening they attended an interesting entertainment at the Royal Victoria Theatre, [illegible] by Government photographers were shown on the screen, and a musical programme was given by Mrs. Macdonald Fahey and the Arion Club.

At the conclusion of this part of the programme, they were taken by motor to the Armouries, where the Navy League pageant was repeated especially for their benefit. They enjoyed the dancing, which continued until 1 o'clock this morning.

Today's programme has been completed. Most of the morning will be taken up by [illegible] through the [illegible]. At 12 o'clock [illegible] luncheon [illegible] the [illegible] Chamber [illegible] [illegible]

HOUSE DEBATES ORDER ON COAL

Liberal Members Object to Measure Continuing Authority of Director in Alberta Coal Producing Districts

BILL IS PASSED THROUGH COMMITTEE

Proposed Government System Branch Railways Arouse Discussion—Hon. Dr. Tolmie's Bill Adopted

OTTAWA, June 10.—The House spent the day in discussion, which passed from coal orders to railway extensions, and from railway extension to weed seeds. Amendments to the luxury taxes, indicated by the Minister of Finance yesterday, were not taken up, so that members might have an opportunity to consider them further. Keenest criticism during the day came on the question of coal orders. The bill is one extending until next session certain orders governing coal mining in Alberta, issued by the director of coal operations.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, complained that by confirming the orders—extracts from some of which he cited—Parliament would be declaring for such principles as the closed shop as far as the mines in question were concerned.

"It is the most amazing bill ever submitted to Parliament," exclaimed Hon. W. S. Fielding, for Parliament was being asked to confirm orders which members had not had the opportunity to see.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, who had the bill in hand, laid emphasis on the situation existing when the orders were issued. The closed shop was better than the frozen home. Coal had to be mined. Further, the bill did not perpetuate the orders. It merely gave authority to the director of coal operations, who could vary the orders if found necessary. Finally the bill went through committee on a vote of 99 to 50, a Government majority of 49. The Progressives voted with the Government.

Railway discussion arose on a bill for the construction of three Government branch lines in Saskatchewan. The cost of the lines, it was said, would be $37,000 a mile, or an approximate farther expenditure on Government roads of $5,500,000.

A bill to provide for inspection of bran, shorts and commercial feeding stuffs, was given third reading at the evening session. Hon. S. F. Tolmie explained that the purpose of the bill was to give farmers and dairymen a guarantee that when they bought bran and shorts they would secure these commodities. If any foreign weed seeds were mixed with them, then the mixture must be sold as commercial feed stuff.

Amendments to the criminal code were discussed in committee.

Hon. Arthur Meighen secured first reading of the bill to amend the Irrigation Act, the object being to expropriate water rights where necessary and to place springs under the same commercial class as other water required for irrigation purposes.

IS SUING RAILWAYS FOR SUBSIDY MONEY

TORONTO, June 10.—The Dominion Permanent Loan Company has entered action against the Columbia and Western Railway Company, the Kettle Valley Railway Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, to recover $200,500 representing the balance of 40 per cent of the Dominion and British Columbia subsidies for building the railway between Midway and Merritt, B.C.

The defendants, it is said, have paid part of the subsidies, but arranged for the diversion of some of the money payable under the subsidy to other lines, to avoid payment to the plaintiffs.

The claim is made under an agreement of May 26, 1910.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS BEGIN NEXT MONTH

VANCOUVER, June 10.—First payment of mothers' pensions in British Columbia will be made in July, according to announcement made by George F. Pyke today. Mr. Pyke, formerly secretary of the Returned Soldier Commission, who was recently appointed assistant superintendent of neglected children and assigned to the duty of organizing and bringing into force the new mothers' pensions act, has opened an office at 824 Vancouver Block, where he is making excellent progress with his organization work.

While Mr. Pyke is positive in his statements that payments will be made for the month of July, he will not guarantee that the cheques will be issued promptly on the first of the month. He anticipates the natural amount of delay at first, owing to the large number of applicants and the necessity of making investigations in connection with each case.

CO-ORDINATION OF RAILWAY WORK

Committee of Management Makes Progress With Arrangements of Grand Trunk and Canadian National

OTTAWA, June 10.—Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, stated today that the recently appointed committee of management for the co-ordination of the operation of the Grand Trunk and Canadian National Railways was proceeding as rapidly as possible with the unification of the two systems. Consolidation of dual offices at various points already had been decided upon, and details of the changes are now being worked out.

Important changes may be looked for through the consolidation of the Canadian Express and National Express Companies, by which efficiency of express service may be secured and economies effected. Details are at present being worked out. Combined through passenger services have been authorized as follows to take effect June 27:

1—Daily passenger train service between Montreal and Sudbury, via Grand Trunk to Ottawa, thence Canadian National Railways to Sudbury, via Capreol. Also the tri-weekly operation of this train to and from Winnipeg.

2—Daily passenger train service between Toronto and Winnipeg, via Grand Trunk Railway to North Bay, Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway to Cochrane, thence Canadian National Railways to Winnipeg.

These trains connect at Winnipeg with daily passenger train service between Winnipeg and Vancouver, via Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways.

REPUBLICANS FIND COMPROMISE ROAD THROUGH TROUBLE

Committee Succeeds in Constructing League of Nations Plank Satisfactory to Convention—Is Substantially That Which Mr. Elihu Root Devised Leaving for Europe

WHOLE PLATFORM QUICKLY ADOPTED

Arrangement Has Apparently Left Chances of the Candidates Unaffected—Nomination for Presidency to Be Made Today—Various Declarations Embodied in Party Platform

CHICAGO, June 10.—Rescuing the party by an eleventh-hour compromise from a threatened split on the League of Nations issue, the Republican national convention today adopted a platform and then adjourned to nominate a candidate tomorrow.

Harmony on the League issue was reached after many hours of heated negotiations, revolving about the sub-committee on resolutions, but bringing into consultation, first and last, virtually all the big men of the party. In the end irreconcilables and mild reservationists accepted a treaty plank drafted by Elihu Root before his departure for Europe several weeks ago, but revised in some details to meet the views of the contending elements.

It condemns President Wilson's League covenant, upholds the Senate in its rejection of the treaty, and endorses the principle of an international peace concert in harmony with American traditions.

After impatiently marking time all day for the resolutions committee to complete its work, the tired convention received with cheers the reading of the platform by Senator Watson of Indiana, committee chairman, and adopted it with a great chorus of cheering. It nearly drowned out a minority report presented by Edwin J. Gross the Wisconsin member of the committee, and signed only by himself. The substitute provided flat rejection of the league idea, advocated government ownership of railroads and contained other proposals which the convention hooted as "socialistic."

Candidates' Chances

The relative chances of the presidential candidates apparently were little affected by the platform agreement, and on nomination eve there was in evidence no development which changed the situation, with Wood, Johnson and Lowden leading, but without any of them having enough delegates to nominate. So far as the talk of those on the inside revealed, the attainment of harmony over the troublesome treaty plank had no reflex on any of the candidacies except possibly in the case of Senator Johnson. He will not now appear on the convention floor, and that is a disappointment to his supporters, who had believed that the appearance of their leader in a treaty fight would help his fight for the nomination.

In accord with the plan to finish up the convention's work on a skip-stop schedule, it was agreed to convene at 9 a. m., to hurry through the nomination speeches and remain in continuous session until a candidate is nominated. Nomination for Vice-President will be left for Saturday.

The plan seemed acceptable to most of the campaign managers, and it suited the delegates, because they are worn out and anxious for the big show to end.

The convention held two sessions today. Meeting first at 11 a. m., it quickly adjourned when word was brought that the work of the resolutions committee was still uncompleted. The second session began at 4 p. m., and then two hours were whiled away in music, speeches and cheering before Senator Watson brought in the platform.

The Platform

The Republican platform, which ran to considerably more than 7,000 words in length, stated at the outset that the outstanding feature of the Democratic administration had been complete unpreparedness for war and peace. The demonstrated incapacity of the Democratic party had destroyed public confidence and weakened the authority of government.

The Republicans undertook to end executive autocracy and to restore to the people their constitutional government.

After enumerating the stands taken on various matters that had been dealt with by Congress, the platform went on to express approval of practical and adequate farmer representation in the appointment of Government officials and commissions, with the right to form co-operative associations.

It recognized the right of collective bargaining as a means of promoting good will and establishing more harmonious relations between employer and employee, and it pledged the party to a carefully planned readjustment to a peace time basis and to a policy of rigid economy and to the raising of the standard of individual efficiency among governmental officials.

It advocates a thorough investigation of the present organization of the Federal departments and bureaus.

The President, stated the platform, clung tenaciously to his autocratic war-time powers, an usurpation which was intolerable and deserved the severest condemnation.

The platform further advocates the issuance of a simplified form of income returns and that the Federal reserve system should be free from political influence. Condemnation is expressed of the unsound fiscal policy of the Democratic administration. Much of the injury wrought was irreparable.

Prevention of unreasonable profits by exercise of public economy and [illegible] of private thrift was also advocated, with condemnation of the Democratic administration for failure impartially to enforce the anti-profiteering laws.

Federation of Labor Condemns Color Line

Resolution Is Passed in Convention at Montreal Requesting Brotherhood of Railway Clerks to Change Its Constitution—Other Declarations Are Adopted by Delegates

MONTREAL, June 10—The American Federation of Labor in its annual convention here today wiped out the "color line" and warned its affiliated international unions that negro workers must be given full membership.

The federation's action came at the end of a stormy session, which nearly resulted in a "race war" between delegates from the southern states and the negroes and their sympathisers.

Rejecting the recommendation of their organization committee, the federation, for the first time in history, threatened the autonomy of an affiliated union, by requesting the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks to give the negro freight handlers, express and station employees, full membership, and to eliminate from its constitution the words "white only." The committee's report of "non-concurrence" on the ground that the federation had no power to interfere with the constitution of a [illegible] union, immediately drew the fire of the negro delegation, and those of several Northern States, chiefly Illinois and New York.

There was a volume of [illegible] oratory, in which the negroes charged "[illegible]" and "discrimination," to which their opponents replied with [illegible] of betrayal by negro workers of the whites in past labor disputes.

Indignation of the negro delegates [illegible]

all unions to take in negro members.

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks declared they were taking care of the negro question and giving "just attention to their grievances," and asked that the convention leave the matter in their hands for definite disposal.

Several motions were made on the floor to demand that the railway clerks abolish the color line in its consitution or forfeit its charter in the Federation. One of these was modified to "request" the brotherhood to give the negro full membership. It was accepted by an overwhelming majority.

The negroes, in presenting their resolution demanding membership in the railway clerks' organization, had asked permission to form a brotherhood of their own if this request was refused. Robert Burford, of Richmond, Va., brought the proposal before the convention.

The convention refused to give additional support to President Gompers' non-political [illegible] today, by establishing a [illegible] partisan political [illegible]. REPORT FAVORS H. B. RAILROAD

Senate Committee Finds General Conditions Promising Well for Route—Question of Terminal Point Is Raised

OTTAWA, June 10.—That the route of the Hudson's Bay Railway is feasible, that valuable fish and marine animals abound in the Bay and Strait, and that consideration should be given the matter of making Churchill, instead of Nelson, the terminus of the road, are the main features of the report of the special committee of the Senate appointed to investigate the Hudson's Bay route.

The committee, which has held 15 meetings, extending over a long period, and heard 21 witnesses, makes the following findings:

1. That the Hudson's Bay route is feasible and will probably be in time profitable.

2. That under present conditions the season of navigation would last at least four months, and may, by improvements and aids to navigation, be considerably increased.

3. That in the opinion of the committee sufficient care was not taken in the selection of Nelson as the terminus of the railway, and that the Government should not make further expenditure on this port without first making a new and thorough examination into the relative merits of Churchill and Nelson as the terminus.

4. That the waters of the strait and rivers tributary to the bay teem with fish and valuable marine animals, and the committee believes the bay is equally well stocked.

5. That mines already discovered in the Hudson's Bay district are of sufficient natural richness to indicate the existence of great potential mineral wealth. The committee feels it cannot too strongly endorse the suggestion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson as to the culture of reindeer and muskox, and urge upon the Government that the Department of the Interior be empowered to take hold of this matter, earnestly taking advantage of what has been done in this regard by the United States Government.

THINKS SALARIES ARE HIGH ENOUGH

Alberta Delegate in Presbyterian General Assembly Opposes an Increase for Officials

OTTAWA, June 10.—The recommendation of the finance committee, which came up for consideration at this morning's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly, that the salaries of officials, such as superintendents of missions, etc., should be increased from $3,500 to $4,000 yearly, met with an impassioned protest from Rev. W. J. Kydd, of Alberta. He held that if a pioneer minister could exist on $1,400, when the food that he purchased had to be freighted sometimes 100 miles, surely the officials could worry along on $3,500 in Toronto. He claimed that the officials were no better equipped with brains than the pioneer ministers, so that was not the reason of their appointment.

The matter came up for discussion just previous to the adjournment this morning.

A resolution from the Social Service committee regarding the relations between labor and capital in Canada was unanimously passed. It was to the effect that the Assembly recognized that the prevailing unrest is a sign of the evil effect of the nation to adjust itself to the new and changing conditions. The unrest was realized as a belated protest against injustices which have been tolerated in the social system, the alienation of Canada's natural resources, the tying up of lands for speculation, profiteering in the necessities of life, the public indifference to the conditions under which many of the people live, and they called earnestly for extensive reforms of the abuses complained of by Parliamentary action.

The resolution drew attention to the fact that selfish and vulgar parade of wealth at a time when all resources were required to meet with the needs of the world, is one of the chief causes of discontent, and called for the self-sacrifice and earnest service that was shown by all classes during the war.

The Assembly warmly commended movements now on foot in many industries toward the following ends:

Giving the worker a voice in determining the conditions under which the work is done and a proper share in the control of industry.

CONSTABLE SHOT AT GRAND FORKS

George Stanfield, Local Member of Provincial Force, Supposed to Have Fallen Victim to Whisky Smuggler

GRAND FORKS, B.C., June 10.—George Stanfield, local Provincial constable, was murdered at midnight at his home here by some person unknown, but alleged to be someone active in illicit liquor dealing. Stanfield had been out all evening, and had apparently just come home and was followed into the house by his assailant, or the latter had been waiting in the house for him. His wife, in bed, heard the shot, but her husband was unable to speak when she reached his side, having been shot through the head. An inquest is being held.

Constable Stanfield had been active in endeavoring to check the illicit traffic of liquor by bootleggers, who smuggle it across the American boundary line. The blacksmith shop of William Liddicoat, police commissioner, who had been personally active in illicit liquor prosecutions, was burned to the ground a fortnight ago by an incendiary, and the two incidents are believed closely related.

Stanfield was highly esteemed and respected by everybody. While most thorough and efficient, he worked quietly and was never in the limelight or officious in manner.

He was an ex-soldier, having seen service in India, the Sudan and South Africa. He was 41 years of age, and leaves a wife and one daughter of 18 years. He had been police constable at Grand Forks for about five years, coming from Phoenix.

DOES NOT FAVOR PROPAGANDA PLAN

Labor Convention Rejects Idea of Political Education Department — Proposal for Hotel Workers' Organization

MONTREAL, June 10.—The American Federation of Labor went on record here today as opposed to the establishment of a permanent non-partisan political educational department to make a nation-wide campaign in support of federation non-partisan policy.

The report of the committee of organization on this proposal, recommending that it be rejected as "unnecessary at this time," and would mean "unnecessary expense," was received with wild applause and was unanimously adopted.

The resolution, proposed by the Central Labor Union of Poplar Bluff, Mo., would not only have created a non-partisan propaganda bureau, but would have established a campaign fund.

The proposal of the policemen's union of Oklahoma City, Okla., that an international policemen's union be chartered, was given favorable consideration, and the convention asked the executive council to take this matter up as soon as the membership of policemen's unions reached 6,000.

The first contest on the convention floor came when the organization committee "non-concurred" on the resolution of the Chicago Federation of Labor, asking that the executive council appoint a special committee to investigate the feasibility of combining all workers in the food and catering industry of America into a food producing and distributing department. Delegates from Chicago, led by Max Hayes, spoke in support of the resolution, declaring that the "gigantic hotel interests" of the country had combined against union workers and must be met by a similar organization. They said that this was the only "effective way to procure justice for the millions of toilers engaged in this important work."

The members of the organization committee declared the combination of these workers was unnecessary, and too many special departments in the federation would "do more harm than good." It would also mean unnecessary expense.

The convention referred the matter to the executive council to call a conference of the various unions interested, and if all desire to be united under a food producing and distributing department, draw up plans for such a department.

A cablegram from the executive committee of the Irish Trade Union Congress was read to the convention, urging the Federation to demand the release from prison of "Comrade James Larkin, Irish labor leader," and to "use every effort to secure for Ireland the principles for which America claimed to have entered the war." Larkin is now serving a sentence for communal anarchy.

After a bitter debate, marked by fiery oratory, the Federation adopted a resolution requesting the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks to eliminate the "color line" from its constitution and give the negro full membership.

LETTER CARRIERS THREATEN TO STRIKE

TORONTO, June 10.—Toronto letter carriers have taken a strike vote and, according to the reports obtainable today, between 95 and 100 per cent are in favor of striking. Prospects exist for the spread of the strike from the ranks of the letter carriers to every branch of the Federal Civil Servants' Association, which in Toronto alone includes a total of about 3,000 carriers, postal clerks, railway mail and transportation clerks.

Fundamentally the chief cause of the unrest which threatens to precipitate the crisis is the alleged failure of the Government to approach a fulfillment of its promise in the last amended reclassification bill.

EXTENDING TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

OTTAWA, June 10.—The Canada-West Indies conference has practically completed its work. Tentative agreements, it is understood, have been reached between the Canadian and West Indian delegates, looking to a wide extension of trade. The agreement, it is said, provides for:

1. Extension of the preferential steamship service between Canada and the West Indian ports reached by private and Canadian Government lines.

2. Extension of the preferential tariffs between Canada and the British West Indies.

3. Increased cable facilities.

In regard to preferential tariffs, the West Indian colonies have been asking for an increase in the reciprocal preference from the present 20 to 50 per cent, with free foodstuffs this way. So far as steamship service is concerned, it is understood the West Indian delegates have expressed a willingness to bear part of any loss occasioned by the routes taken by Canadian Government steamers to islands not now in direct connection with Canada.

The West Indian delegates are to leave for Toronto tomorrow night. They will spend the week-end in the Niagara Peninsula, returning to Ottawa on Tuesday. In the interval the proposals made at the conference will be submitted by the Canadian delegates to the cabinet council for consideration.

SLUMP IN SILVER IS MORE PRONOUNCED

NEW YORK, June 10.—Bar silver experienced another violent decline abroad and in the local market yesterday. The London quotation added 2¾d to yesterday's break of slightly more than 6d and brought the price down to 45⅝d per ounce. This is just a fraction more than one-half the high record price for the metal last February.

In the New York market the price was 3c lower at 81c. Dealers in silver bullion continued to attribute the decline to the demoralized condition prevailing in East India and China, and also to further heavy selling of melted coin by Germany and other European centres.

NATURALIZATION ACT WILL BE AMENDED

OTTAWA, June 10.—The Minister of Justice will shortly introduce a bill in the House to amend the Naturalization Act. The chief provision of the bill, it is understood, will deal with the ten-year clause adopted in the act last year, which has aroused so much controversy. Under the clause, persons of alien enemy birth are barred from obtaining a naturalization certificate for ten years from the declaration of peace.

It is recognized that the clause has operated a hardship in the case of certain residents of Canada, born in Germany or Austria, against whom there has been no complaint. The bill, it is said, will make a modification in the clause. It will give discretion to the Secretary of State to grant naturalization certificates to certain aliens where the applicant already has been resident in Canada for ten years or more.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 10.—The Schon-Stevenson Company, a wholesale grocery concern of Huntington, was today fined $35,000 upon conviction of profiteering in sugar in the Federal Court here. Judge Pritchard said he was imposing the heaviest fine the Lever law permitted.

Cheaper Clothing in Paris

PARIS, June 10.—Men's suits at 45 francs (in normal times about $9) will be possible in Paris, according to the newspapers, if a campaign being conducted by them is successful. The Government is holding more than two million yards of cloth suitable for clothing, and is being urged to release sufficient for seven hundred thousand suits under an agreement with the manufacturers and unions by which each suit could be made as low a price as possible.

Boys Killed by Lightning

CHAMBER BOARD SUBMITS'S REPORT

Two Remaining Commissioners Express Wish to Have Future Status Defined—Extensive Review of Work

OTTAWA, June 10.—Declaring that the operation of civil service regulations has prevented it from carrying on effectively, the Board of Commerce in its final annual report, made public today, asks the Government for a conference on the method in which the board will be operated for the future.

The board asks for release from the necessity of accepting experts nominated by the civil service commission, which would go for recommendation of such experts to the very interests the board was charged with the duty of investigating. It declares its conviction that the board's first duty is to the consumer, and points out that the larger functions vested in it by the combines and fair prices act, the investigation of combines, and the general supervision of trade process cannot be carried out without an expert and trustworthy staff.

Expressing their indifference from the personal standpoint to the question of whether they remain commissioners of the Board of Commerce or not, they ask the Government to declare its intentions with regard to the board, so that they may settle the question of their respective futures.

Full details of its activities throughout the Dominion, its hearings in Canada and the United States for the purpose of investigating alleged profiteering or combines, and minute accounts of the operation of its departments in Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, and its inspectors in other cities are reported.

Hampered by Regulations

The report states that civil service regulations enacted November 10 last have operated to seriously impair the success and usefulness of the board, and eventually they will destroy the board. Asking that the board be restored to the position it occupied when the present commissioners took office, the board states that it has not yet been permitted even effectively to commence operations. The board was created in the interest of the consumer primarily, the report says, and while it is prepared to guard alike the interests of the manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer or consumer, it has always clearly recognized that paramount consideration must be given to the interests of the consumer.

"The board has not tried to please," the report says. "It has merely tried to perform its duty. In that performance it is aware that it has made many enemies.

"The board has no regret. The present commissioners have no intention of amendment. The board's duty is to execute the law, whether well or ill-conceived, which has been delivered to it for execution. From the personal standpoint the present commissioners are totally unconcerned whether the board shall or shall not be continued."

Wish Definite Decision

"If the board be continued and the present commissioners remain in office, they will endeavor to execute their duties, guided by the principles which previously actuated them and which are here set forth, but they would again point out that to attempt to continue to operate this board under the conditions which have prevailed since November 10, 1919, would be futile.

"Wherefore, the board requests an early conference with the Governor-General-in-Council as to the mode of operating the Board of Commerce for the future, if at all. The present commissioners desire to settle the question of their respective futures."

The board's report of 776 foolscap pages gives detailed account of the activities of the board from its inception on July 7, 1919, to March 31, 1920, the end of its first legal year.

Chairman's Resignation

The brief preamble concludes: "This report is signed only by Commissioner W. F. O'Connor, who finds himself in disagreement with Commissioner James Murdock, the only other member of the board, as to the advisability of inclusion within the board's report of certain additional matter." A sub-clause follows, signed by Commissioner Murdock, in which he says: "I fully concur with my associate commissioner in the preceding report with its annexed schedules as far as it goes, except that my earnest conviction and claim is that correspondence and documents sent to the Right Honorable Sir George Foster, then acting Prime Minister, under date of March 3, dealing with the resignation of the chairman of this board, should have been included in this report. My belief is that it would have been very much 'in the public interest' for the people of Canada to know something more of the reasons that prevented the Board of Commerce of Canada from performing its functions in controlling profiteering and combines against public interest as by-law intended."

A list follows of the hearings, investigations and decisions of the board between August 20, 1919, and March 31, 1920, in 15 different cities of Canada and the United States on general matters, and 10 public hearings on the newsprint situation between October 11, 1919, and March 18, 1920. The board's control of newsprint was rescinded on April 7, 1920, following a decision rendered in the Supreme Court of Canada that the newsprint control as a war measure was no longer justified. Sugar, milk, bread, pork products, boots and shoes, groceries, clothing, drugs, electric lamps, wall paper, canned goods, and coal, are amongst the specific commodities touched on in the report, investigation having been made of several alleged combines.

Question of Confidence

Dealing in its concluding remarks with the investigation of combines, the board states that only lack of a competent staff has prevented it from going further into this matter.

Dissenting from the view expressed by former Judge H. A. Robson, ex-chairman of the board, that the operations committed to the board were impossible of execution, the present commissioners point out that the Combines and Fair Prices Act relates as well as to fair prices to combines, trusts and mergers, and to this first part of the act, says the report, it was the experience of the commissioners, "during the regime of the ex-chief commissioner (Judge Robson) it was very difficult to secure any attention."

In the end the present commissioners themselves (the report continues) very shortly before the resignation of the ex-chief commissioner and without his assent, set into action the first part of the Combines and Fair Prices Act, with the result that the board is now in possession of many hundreds of returns, the scope and extent of which may be judged upon reading the summary of returns in this report. The board's investigations into the existence of combines, trusts, mergers, price fixing arrangements is steadily proceeding, and if, when the board's jurisdiction is established, the board will be prepared to take such action as may be necessary "in the case of combines, etc., which are detrimental to the public."

Extensive Organization

The report expresses surprise at the extent to which organization of industries into combines and price fixing arrangements have proceeded. Under the heading of trusts, mergers, trade arrangements and resale price arrangements, the following commodities are shown to be controlled by one of these systems in Canada: Wrapping paper, broom handles wire fence, cloth, malleable metals, paper bags, toilet paper, eavetroughs and conductor pipe, shipping tags, sheet metal, automobile equipment, shovels, washing machines, wall paper, led traps, wringers, cooperage, wrought pipe, scales, steel sash, wood screws, tacks, wire, solder and cane lead, general hardware, window shades, each of which commodities is controlled by an association. The board states that in this connection it does not prejudge any combine as to the public detriment. It has not been supplied with adequate staffs to digest the mass of information in its possession. A hundred staple articles of groceries, including many trade marked commodities, are included in this list.

Returns From Retailers

Dealing in a general way with returns from retailers, the board states that many are reporting regularly, having found that the close scrutiny over their business operations necessary to the compilation of the reports is beneficial to the conduct of their business. Many are not reporting, and will be prosecuted, says the report. The work entailed in scrutinizing and deciding upon the character of all these associations and price-fixing systems, the board points out, is so vast that it has to be postponed until the board is authorized to secure necessary and trustworthy assistance. This work was to have been done by the trade and transportation section of the board, which has never been put into force because, it is stated, the civil service commission refused to sanction the employment of the board's appointee to the directorate of this division, after four months of application.

MR. CAMSELL DEPUTY MINISTER OF MINES

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Charles E. Camsell, of the Dominion Geological Bureau, Vancouver, has received the appointment of Deputy Minister of Mines for Canada, according to HSSL HS HS [illegible] Suppos word received here today from Ottawa. He will leave here Sunday for Ottawa to take up his new duties.

OTTAWA, June 10.—The appointment is confirmed today of Charles E. Camsell, of Vancouver, to the post of Deputy Minister of Mines for the Dominion. McConnell, retiring Deputy Minister of Mines, has been granted superannuation on his own request.

MRS. GREENALL NOW WELL AND HAPPY

Tanlac Restored Her Health a Year Ago, and She Has Had No Return of Troubles Since

"Tanlac ended my sufferings nearly a year ago, and to this good day I have been enjoying just splendid health," was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. Greenall, of 1306 Cariboo Street, Westminster, British Columbia.

"A little more than a year ago I had a spell of the influenza, and after I was able to get up I found myself in a badly run-down condition with a poor appetite and my stomach all upset. Nothing at all tasted good, and at times just the smell of things cooking nauseated me. After I did eat anything I had pains and burnings all through my chest and around my heart, and whenever I coughed the pain almost took my breath away. My heart would also palpitate dreadfully, and sometimes I became awful dizzy and fainty. Nearly every day I had a terrible headache, and my nerves were so shattered I could hardly bear little noises like the rustling of a newspaper. A good night's sleep was something I could never enjoy, and I became so weak I was barely able to attend to my housework.

But now, I am thankful that I'm enjoying good health once more, and I give Tanlac the credit for it all. My appetite is splendid, and I don't have to worry over what I can eat, for everything digests perfectly, and I have no fear of suffering afterwards. My nerves are so steady that nothing ever disturbs me, and I sleep soundly every night. I haven't had a headache or dizzy spell since I stopped taking Tanlac, and that was nearly a year ago, as I said. I am in as good health as I could ask, and I simply couldn't be better pleased with a medicine than I have been with Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt by Lang's Drug Store. (Advt.)

THE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY

Representative Canadian manufacturers, who constitute such an integral part of the industrial backbone of the country, are at present visiting Victoria in the course of their convention tour of the West. They are welcome guests in the city. They bring to us a new breath of the expanding life of the Dominion, for they epitomize that driving power which is building up the commerce of the country and increasing its prestige in the world's markets. The sessions held in Vancouver were practical, as those of business men usually are, and the manner in which they transact their work is suggestive of the desirability of having more of their type in the parliaments of the country. As an organization they are, perhaps, not sufficiently aggressive in a political sense, and there can be no wonder at this, because they are immersed in toils which consume the greater portion of their waking hours.

The manufacturing industry of the country has a tremendous opportunity for expansion in these times, providing it is not made the victim of such legislation as will make it difficult for it to compete with those countries which enjoy more advantageous conditions. Australia has realized the trade openings which have been an outcome of the Great War, and as a consequence is affording rigid protection to her industries, not only so that she may secure trade, but also prevent unemployment developing. She has chosen a course which is essential in a young country in competition with older and wealthier communities. The tariff question in Canada seems destined to come very much to the fore during the next few years, the issue being forced by the farmers' political movement and the desire of that section of the country to secure especial benefits through the removal of certain duties. The cry for a measure of free trade is largely, but not altogether, a sectional desire. Opposed to it there is the manufacturing industry of the country to be considered and the large number of men and women whom it employs, to say nothing of the loss of revenue which the country would sustain in the event of any policy approaching free trade being put into force. Because of the conditions which exist there is sound logic in the statement that this Dominion would become something in the nature of a commercial adjunct of the United States if the tariff bars were lowered. That was the view held by Mr. W. H. Taft at the time a reciprocity treaty between the two countries was being negotiated. Nothing has happened in the interim to alter this conception, and we believe it is still held by the manufacturers of this country, as well as by the majority of the people.

LACK OF CO-OPERATION

The ruling of the railway committee of the House of Commons that six-cent fares are to prevail on the British Columbia Electric Railway until the Public Utilities Commission of the Province has a chance to hear argument on the matter would be of interest if such an organization as a utilities commission was in existence. It has been abolished by an act of the Legislature and the commissioner has resigned, and, so far as we know, no one has been appointed to succeed him temporarily. Ottawa should be better informed of legislation enacted in this Province. It is not at all clear what the Railway Committee of the House of Commons has to do with six-cent fares on the street cars in this Province, for the understanding was that the B. C. Electric Railway was to be replaced under Provincial control. There are altogether too inharmonious relations between the Federal and Provincial Governments, and we fear the latter are to blame, for they sometimes allow their party proclivities to interfere with that co-operation which is necessary in the best interests of the people. The bandying about of the question of jurisdiction in the matter of the B. C. Electric Railway is a case in point. It is a matter which should be established once and for all in the interests of the company of the people and of the respective governments.

REWARDS OF INDUSTRY

The French peasantry has not resolved itself into a farmers' union to obtain political control of the country, but it is making its influence felt nevertheless. It always has done that, and more than once it has proved the financial salvation of the nation. The fact is well known that it was the French peasantry that put its hand into a long stocking and pulled out a sufficient number of francs to wipe out quickly the huge indemnity demanded by the Iron Chancellor of Germany after the war of the early seventies. Thus the frugal peasant freed his countrymen from the obnoxious presence of a Prussian army of occupation. There are no redeeming features attached to war, but there is one invariable effect. It enhances the prices of all kinds of goods, and generally, if carried out on an extensive scale, sends the values of agricultural products to a dizzy altitude. There are two reasons for this invariable rule: the number of men, and women, too, impressed from industrial work and the destruction of property wrought by engines of war.

All agriculturists who have diligently attended to their business during the past four years have reaped golden harvests. The French peasants who had the good fortune to be outside of the zone of invasion had the best opportunities of all, and, with their characteristic energy and foresight, took the fullest advantage of them. They made hay and other things while the guns roared, and now they are reported to be in affluent circumstances. They are engaged in the pleasant task of facing a reality which for centuries had been but a dream—they are purchasing from the landlords the lands their fathers had tilled for centuries. The fact that they are altogether worthy of their inheritance may be accepted without question when it is stated that as a result of their industry France will not only produce sufficient food, including wheat, for the nourishment of its own population, but actually will have a surplus for export. Evidently the French peasant did not require to be exhorted to exemplify the virtues of industry and thrift.

HUNGRY RUSSIA

Mr. Benjamin Turner, a member of the British delegation which went to Soviet Russia to inquire into conditions there, says that 50 per cent of the people are hungry, although everyone is getting a certain percentage of food. In Moscow and Petrograd he found the majority of the people supporting the Bolshevik Government, but the rural population is not fully in agreement with communism. This delegation went to Russia by permission of the Soviet power, and, presumably, was taken on a personally conducted tour, for no traveller is allowed in Russia in these days without being under surveillance. Mr. Turner's findings are a strange commentary on a country, perhaps more liberally endowed with natural resources than any other in the world. The explanation of why 50 per cent of those under Soviet rule should be hungry in a land of plenty cannot lie in the people themselves, but in the nature of the repressive authority to which they are subjected. Where legislation is so poorly conceived as to lead to industrial disorganization of a chaotic character, there is obviously something inherently wrong with the form of government which exists. That 50 per cent of the Russian people should go hungry is a crime against civilization, considering that all the foodstuffs necessary to their subsistence on the healthiest scale can be produced, and was produced before fanatics took control of the political affairs of the country.

There has never been any secret about the apathy of the peasantry of Russia towards Soviet rule. The rural population is disorganized, and Soviet methods prevent it from amalgamating its interests. By far the largest proportion of the population of Russia is made up of the peasant class, and it is that element which will prevail when a government on representative lines is set up in the country. The findings of Mr. Turner disclose nothing new, but since they come from a member of the labor delegation they will carry weight among a considerable section of the people in Great Britain. Any cursory examination of conditions in Russia, especially when it is carried out under the eyes of the Soviet Power, is bound to be inconclusive and to some extent incoherent. The truth of the matter appears to be that the world does not, and perhaps never will, know a tithe of Russia's sufferings during the past few years. Famine, plague, the machine gun and bayonet have been her constant companions, and because of the injuries misguiding minds have inflicted on the country the people of this community are today subscribing to the Jewish Relief Fund.

A very interesting and quite illuminative statement has been issued by a representative of Canadian publishers. It is declared that less than 15 per cent of the paper made in Canadian mills from Canadian products is used by Canadians. It is further stated that there are certain individual publishers in the United States who secure more paper from this country than is used by Canadian daily newspapers in the aggregate; yet the Government of this country is unable to secure a guarantee from paper makers, who have been established in business upon concessions obtained from the public, that Canadian newspapers will be furnished with all the paper they require at current market prices. It is a curious situation and worthy of the closest consideration.

Direct Line to Chile

VANCOUVER, June 10.—In an endeavor to persuade shipping men here that a direct steamship line between this port and Valparaiso is an urgent necessity, Senor Luis A. Santander, the Chilean Vice-Consul at Seattle, is visiting the city. Representations are also being made at Ottawa in this regard. At present all Canadian goods have to be shipped via Puget Sound, and in many cases have to pay about double what would be the normal freight if shipped direct.

HUMAN AGE LIMIT MAY BE PROLONGED

Theorists Believe Span of Life May Be Extended Even Beyond That of Methuselah—Cause of Death

Seeing that people nowadays gravely discuss communicating with Mars, and ouija boards and that one lunatic has offered to be shot to the moon in a rocket, it would seem fitting to offer a few remarks upon the chances of people living to be 1,900 years old. It is declared by American scientists that it may be possible for people to live so long. All that is necessary is that a way should be found to keep the body always at a temperature of 7.5 degrees centigrade. Now the centigrade system divides the temperature between freezing point and boiling point into one hundred degrees, and it can be thus calculated how comfortable it would be to live at 7.5 centigrade. It has been suggested that life at this low temperature might be rather monotonous since all sensations would be in a very low key. Nevertheless, some people might be willing to buy 1,900 years of life at this price, especially if they knew that it would not merely be their old age that would be prolonged, but their youth and their maturity as well. A man would feel like a boy—or maybe like a boy frog—until he was a couple of hundred, and would not begin to feel really aged until he had reached about 1,500.

A Long Chilly Life

The experiments which have led to the belief that in certain circumstances it might be possible to prolong life almost indefinitely, were made by Dr. Jacques Loeb, of the Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. Northrop, the subjects being fruit flies. They raised 87 aseptic successive generations of fruit flies, on aseptic yeast, their natural food, removing all chances of infection or death by accident or violence, to see if the lives of the flies would thereby be prolonged. Despite all their care, the flies died at the allotted time for these insects, twenty-one days. The next test was made with similarly chosen flies, living in a reduced temperature. The natural heat of the fruit fly's body is 30 degrees centigrade, and they found that as they reduced the temperature, the span of life increased. Thus at 25 degrees, the flies lived for 38 days; at 20 degrees for 54 days; at 15 degrees to 123 days, and at 10 degrees to 177 days. It was thereafter a simple mental feat for these learned scientists to calculate that if the human temperature were similarly and suitably decreased it might be possible to live for nearly 2,000 years. In case some thoughtless readers should let his mind stray to the Eskimos, it is pointed out that it is not the outside temperaure, but the heat of the blood that is concerned.

Death Not Inherent

An idea growing in favor is that death is not inherent in the individual cell, but is only the fate of more complicated organisms in which different types of cells or tissues are dependent on each other. Says Dr. Loeb: "In this case it seems to happen that one or certain types of cell produce a substance or substances which gradually become harmful to a vital organ like the respiratory centre or medulla or destroy substances which are needed for the life of some vital organ. The mischief of death of complex organisms may then be traced to the activity of a black sheep in the society of tissues and organs which constitutes a multicellular organism." If this mysterious black sheep could be located or eradicated, the prospect of a much longer lease of life would be assured, but so far it has been as hard to locate as the vitamens. What vitamens are is not known, but they are known to be essential to life, and are supplied by taking a large quantity of fruit or vegetables in the daily food.

A Chemical Reaction

What is the seventy years which the psalmist said was the years of man's life? Physical chemists are inclined to believe that it is the time for a chemical reaction. Between the process of digestion and the process of disintegration there exists a close analogy. Two ferments change the solid meat into blood. One is pepsin, which exists in the stomach; the other is trypsin, which exists in the intestines. These two attack and break up the large insoluble molecules into the small soluble molecules of amino acids, which are absorbed by the blood and carried to the cells of the body, where they are utilised to build up new solid cell matter. These two ferments exist in many other cells, apart from the digestive organs and possibly in all cells of the body, and the question has been asked why they do not constantly digest and thus destroy the body while life lasts. The tentative answer has been given that the co-operation of both ferments is required in the same cell for the work of destruction, and that this co-operation becomes possible only at a certain degree of acidity, which cannot be reached in the living body on account of the constant removal of acid through respiration and oxidation.

The Mysterious Glands

When respiration ceases, however, the degree of acidity necessary for the digestive action of both ferments in the same cell is reached. Therefore it happens that what occurs to the dead body is exactly what happens in life to the food that is taken into the stomach. The body becomes digested and liquified. That is the fact of death from the standpoint of the physical chemist. The theory of life has not been so easily traced. Recent discoveries seem to attribute to the ductless glands of the body amazing qualities that govern not only growth but life itself. These glands supply an organism, called hormone, as yet not isolated and not more clearly identified than vitamens, whose disappearance is followed by decay and death. Experiments on lower forms of life show that if the thyroid gland is removed from a tadpole it never can become a frog, and if thyroid glands are fed to tadpoles the change into froghood can be obtained at will. It has been discovered that a Mexican salamander which never metamorphoses, will metamorphose like other varieties if fed on thyroid glands. So far as is known the thyroid gland contains chiefly iodine, and it is supposed that it is this iodine that works the miracles recorded.

SAY ACT IS TO BLAME FOR LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Weak Legislation Ties Hands of Police in Trying to Enforce Prohibition, Commissioners Tell Delegation

Handicapped by the weakness of the present Prohibition Act, effective curbing of the liquor traffic in Victoria is practically impossible, members of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday told a delegation of prohibitionists, headed by Rev. Dr. W. Leslie Clay and Rev. William Stevenson.

Dr. Clay and Mr. Stevenson pointed out that, in spite of the fact that Victoria was supposed to be dry, there was unquestionably a pronounced and indisputable indication of wetness occasionally. They felt that the Police Commission was not doing all in its power to meet the situation, and urged that the enforcement of the act be more rigorous than in the past. They stated that a few weeks ago there was an alarming increase in the number of drunks to be seen on the streets, and they said that the opinion had been expressed that this display was encouraged by the liquor and saloon interests as a means of holding up the prohibition legislation to ridicule.

Members of the board referred to the fact that Provincial Government revenue from the sale of liquor last year amounted to almost $800,000. This should be sufficient evidence, in itself, that it was an easy thing to obtain liquor in British Columbia, in spite of the nominally prohibitory legislation, the commissioners said. It was stated that the law was weak in that it gave no right to search without warrant, and there were other loopholes, too.

The delegation went away satisfied that the commission has a difficult duty to perform and that the trouble is with the law rather than with the police.

"I do not say that the law could not be more rigidly enforced than at present," stated Dr. Clay after the interview. "But I will say that conditions could be a great deal worse."

NANAIMO CONVENTION PROVED FINE SUCCESS

President G. D. Christie, of Island Automobile Association, Sees Benefits to Be Derived From Gatherings

"The Nanaimo convention was a fine success," said President G. D. Christie, of the Island Automobile Association, on his return yesterday afternoon from the conference of associated Vancouver Island automobile organizations in the Coal City the previous day. "It was another step in what every sane man on the Island is anxious to see brought about—the closest possible co-operation between the different communities. What is more natural? The interests of every car owner on Vancouver Island are peculiar to the Island, but the interests of any particular section are practically identical with those of all others. Wednesday's convention did a lot of good. The only disappointing feature was the fact that two of the Island's associations were unable to be represented. Alberni, Nanaimo, Duncan and Victoria were represented in numbers. The Nanaimoites proved excellent hosts and made our stay in their city most interesting, apart from the convention sessions. Next year the Victoria club is to be the host."

The chief objects of the get-together of the various automobile associations of the Island was explained by Mr. Christie yesterday as being: The promotion of a strong co-operative spirit, discussion of road upkeep, and the preservation of scenic beauty along certain sections of the Island Highway, and the making of motoring safe to the pedestrians and driver alike.

Set Against Speeder

The latter feature appeared to be one of the most important functions of automobile associations, according to Mr. Christie. It was necessary to check the speeder and it was decidedly the province of the automobile organizations to take an active hand in doing it. The man who burned glaring headlights on the road was also a menace, though, fortunately, the Legislature had undertaken to regulate that.

One of the most important matters considered in the sessions was the question of experimentation by the Government along the lines of a search for the best surface binder adapted to the Island roads. It was pointed out by speakers that a great deal of the expense of road upkeep would be eliminated if some sort of binder could be found that would hold loose gravel against the suction created by an automobile tire under ordinary usage. It was the belief of the convention that the Government would be well advised to make a small outlay each year in experimentation along that line. The matter will be presented to the Government in a regular way as soon as a conference can be arranged to be convenient both to the Government and up-Island members of the executive of the associated clubs.

Interests of Motoring

There were many matters before the convention that were pertinent to the best interests of motoring on the Island generally, according to Mr. Christie. He felt certain that a great deal of good was to come of frank discussion of them between representatives of the various sections. The convention taught one thing, he said, the fact that plenty of community interest and fellowship spirit was to be found when representatives from the different Island centres were brought together with business before them. The pity of it was, in his estimation, that the opportunity was so seldom afforded.

There are at the present time five sectional automobile associations on Vancouver Island. They function separately, but the convention has provided for an executive board to deal with matters of the common interest. This is to be composed of the presidents of the separate organizations.

POLICEMEN AGAIN PLEAD FOR RAISE

Claim 15 Per Cent Increase Granted by Board Is Inadequate—Pension System to Be Considered

Representatives of the policemen's union waited upon the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday and stated that they were not satisfied with the increased salaries provided under the new schedule recently adopted by the board.

While the matter was taken under advisement and no official statement was made at the meeting as to the board's intention, it was learned that the commissioners are not likely to concede anything more than has already been agreed. The commissioners feel that the increases already authorized reach the limit that should reasonably be attained, and that any further concession would embarrass the city in trying to meet the salary requests from other departments, which under present conditions have received virtually the same treatment as the policemen.

All members of the police department receiving less than $150 a month were given an increase of $15 a month, according to the new scale. The policemen are dissatisfied with this adjustment and ask that the raise be increased to almost double that granted. They point out that the rates paid here are less than in adjacent cities.

Next week the board will take up with members of the union a proposal to provide pensions for retiring members of the force. The matter has been discussed in a general way at previous sessions, but never in detail. The union favors adoption of the Desborough pension plan, now extensively in force in Great Britain.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION IN NORTHERN DISTRICT

Work Now Proceeding Actively After Delay Owing to Late Season—New Tractor Assists Materially

Work on the roads is now commencing throughout the district. This work has been seriously impeded by the lateness of Spring this year, and in some places still there are signs of the recently disappeared snowfall of Winter. This condition has caused some flooding of the smaller rivers, and on the road to Giscombe Portage the Little Salmon River bridge gang is now at the crossing repairing it.

A Caterpillar Tractor

A big Uba caterpillar tractor recently arrived here for the road department and is now at work pulling graders and removing stumps on the new roads. This is a wonderful machine, and it wallows its way through heavy mud much in the manner of the now famous tanks of Flanders.

The work being carried out by the Northern Construction Company on the fill across the flat at the eastern end of the G.T.P. bridge is progressing well. District Engineer Dixon expects this work to be completed in another week. Paralleling the trestle on the G.T.P. at this end of the bridge is a temporary trestle for the road.

Tenders for Quesnel Road

Tenders have been called for the continuation of the Quesnel wagon road on the east side of the Fraser. This road is being slowly but steadily pushed ahead, year by year, and an excellent road will eventually result, binding together new and old Cariboo.

Following the recent complaint put forward in The Citizen regarding the non-completion of the northern traffic way on the Fraser River bridge, Mr. Dixon received telegraphic advices from Victoria to secure estimates on the completion of this work which involves the grading of a road by dump from the railway, paralleling the G.T.P. tracks to the existing roads, and a level crossing on the railway. When this work is completed it will be possible to cross the bridge in either direction at any time, whereas at the present, on the single traffic way open, wagons have to wait until any traffic coming in the opposite direction has cleared off the half-mile bridge until it can proceed in the opposite direction.—Prince George Citizen.

MINERAL STRIKE ON TEGATE CREEK

Scotty Holliday drifted into the town this week with representative samples of gray copper ore from the Moncoeur Borre group on Legate Creek. The samples assayed showed 240 ounces of silver with high gold and copper contents. The new strike is located between the Copper and the Skeena Rivers in the andesite graphite-porphyry formation and the boys have been aroused to considerable enthusiasm and are anticipating further discoveries of a similar sensational nature which will make the camp resemble the old Eldorado days.—Omineca Herald.

SPYING OUT LAND

Forty Manitoba farmers will visit the Bulkley Valley about the middle of June when they will investigate the agricultural possibilities of that section of British Columbia. A special car has been engaged on the through Grand Trunk train from Winnipeg. The Manitobans are coming to Central British Columbia, for they say they have weathered the cold winters too long and now wish to locate in a milder climate.—Prince George Citizen.

INDIGESTION CAN BE RELIEVED

Simple Treatment Which Has Been Very Effective, Even in Acute Cases

Indigestion and stomach troubles are the source of as much human misery and trouble as any complaint to which human beings are liable. It is a condition which must be closely watched. Once your food does not digest properly, be on your guard, for there's trouble ahead. Neglect this condition, even for a brief time, and stomach troubles of an acute character and a chronic nature are bound to result.

For restoring the stomach to normal digestive powers there is nothing equal to the medicinal properties of herbs contained in Wonder Health Restorer. This famous remedy does its work in a perfectly natural manner. The herb juices act directly on the gastric juice and other digestive fluids and tone them up to normal strength. It also acts on the blood and, through the circulatory system establishes all organs connected with the digestive system in such condition as enables them to perfectly assimilate the food taken.

A striking example of the efficacy of Wonder Health Restorer is given by Mrs. R. A. Kemp, of 826 Third Avenue, Calgary. For over 12 years this lady suffered from stomach trouble, finally being compelled to go to the hospital for an operation. Even this did not relieve her. Trying Wonder Health Restorer she found that after a month she could take light nourishment with comfort, and continued treatment led to her further relief to such an extent as to enable her to put on weight and eat meat, something her physicians had advised her she would never be able to do. She strongly advises sufferers from stomach trouble in any form to try this wonderful remedy.

Persons afflicted with indigestion can secure from their druggist a booklet: "The Road to Health," which tells all about Wonder Health Restorer and its wonderful work. The remedy may be obtained in Victoria at Ivel's Pharmacy; in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store; and also at most drug stores throughout the Province. If your druggist can't supply you, send direct to the distributors, The McCarter-Burr Co., 846 Hillside Avenue, Victoria. (Phone 4250.) (Advt.)

HUDSON'S BAY POST AT STUART LAKE

New Building Will Be Erected to Replace One Destroyed by Fire

In the advertising columns appears an advertisement calling for tenders for the erection of a new Hudson's Bay Company trading post to be erected on the shores of Stuart Lake for the company.

The historical old post was destroyed by fire last year, and the new post, which will be a handsome type of building, will be built as early as possible.

The post at Fort St. James was established by Mr. Simon Fraser in 1880, when he left the post he had established at Fort McLeod and, ascending to the head of Summit Lake, he portaged to the Fraser River, at that regarded as the main stream of the Columbia, or one of its tributaries, and, following the Nechaco River to the Stuart River, he traced this stream to Stuart Lake, establishing there Fort St. James. He gave the name of New Caledonia to the whole territory. Stuart River and Stuart Lake he named after a companion in the service, Mr. John Stuart.

The old H. B. factor, now retired from the service of the company, Mr. James Murray, still lives in Stuart Lake, where he has a farm, but the post is now under the management of Mr. E. B. Smith.

This may be taken as a sign of the progressive policy now being followed by the great trading concern which has just celebrated in a magnificent manner its 250th anniversary.—Prince George Citizen.

LAND RESERVATION BLOCKS SETTLEMENT

Several hundred more people would be on the land in this immediate district did the Government, the Land Settlement Board and the local member adopt a little different attitude in regard to the land situation here. Many prospective settlers with means and experience come every year, see what they want, but are denied the privilege of settling because the land is reserved for this or that, or is held for townsite speculative purposes. This year a few of the more determined are getting located on odd pieces of preemption land and a few are buying partially improved land from preemptors. The bulk of the land and the most desirable is still tied up or not available to the public for some reason.

The sale of lands for taxes was heralded as the solution, as the increase in wild land tax was to help loosen up the land. But the tax sale system is too slow and if the wild land tax has been applied it is proving a failure.

Whatever may have been accomplished elsewhere does not apply in the Hazelton district. More and quicker action is needed here. The land settlement scheme which the Government used as a guide was born here, and the educational campaign which aroused the people of the Province was carried on from here, yet this district has not yet received any attention from the land settlement people, although there is no place suffering to the extent this district is because of speculative land holders and lack of roads.

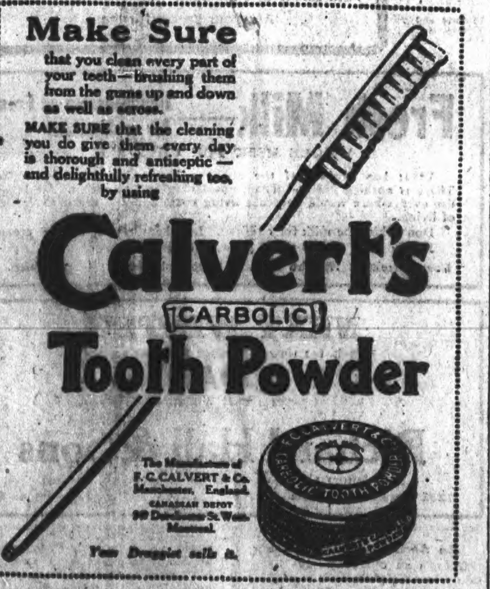

When 10,000 acres of land, the bulk of it first class, can be tied up and held for 10 years, where the total town population would be well provided for on a few town blocks, it appears that something is wrong. It at least is not right.—Omineca Herald.

GREAT INCREASE IN BUFFALO HERD

There have been 1,149 buffalo calves born this year at Wainwright Park, bringing the buffalo herd at that point up to 5,816 animals. That is the information brought by H. C. W. Letts, colonization and industrial agent of the G.T.P., who, with Mrs. Letts, was in the city yesterday. In 1909 Mr. Letts was present when the herd of 734 animals was placed in the park. The increase has been wonderful. In addition to buffalo, there are at Wainwright wapiti, moose and a few antelope.—Prince Rupert News.

TONE TESTING
with the
New Edison

To prove how perfect his Phonograph is, Thomas A. Edison places it beside the artist, and singing in unison it is impossible to state which is artist and which is instrument.

Some of the artists who have tone-tested with the New Edison:

Anna Case	Margaret Matzenauer
Albert Spalding	Frieda Hempel
Sergei Rachmaninoff	Maggie Teyte
Zenatello	Carolina Nazzari
Alice Verlet	Ciccolini
Arthur Middleton	Marie Rappold
Thomas Chalmers

The Edison Concert Recital Department is probably the largest concert booking bureau in the world. So popular are these tone test recitals that more than 3,000 of these recitals have been booked for next season.

Saanich Speeding Case—Commenting on one case of motor speeding which was on trial in the Saanich Police Court yesterday, Magistrate Jay said that motorists too often forget that should a fatal accident result from such speeding, the offending driver would be liable for manslaughter. Prosecutors Ask for Leniency—After Edward Sandholm, in the City Police Court yesterday, had pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing two boom logs, the property of Mr. J. O. Cameron, various persons asked His Honor to show leniency in this case. D. O. Cameron of the Cameron Lumber Company, said that his company did not desire to press the charge unduly; especially as the accused had offered to make what restitution he could. City Prosecutor Harrison also asked the magistrate to take into account the extenuating circumstances. Magistrate Jay said he would remand the case for judgment until tomorrow.

Art and the World

In the past great artists had their feet more firmly on the ground than they have today; they were more ready to devote their talents to the decoration of the common life, to paint frescoes on panels and ceilings, even, like Benvenuto Cellini, to be craftsmen as well as artists. Without going so far as William Morris, there is surely something to be said for this function of art. Architecture and literature can appeal to the million, pictures find their way into collections and are seen by comparatively few. Some of them stand for all time as the most wonderful creations of the human mind, others seem to be intended only to demonstrate that the artist sees things differently from the ordinary mortal. We would not have art become even in the main utilitarian, but we would have it recognized that to be useful is not to be inartistic.—Westminster Gazette.

An Ancient Cigarette Smoker

There's an old chap—106 he admits—in California who says he has smoked cigarettes a hundred years, and he is an old prevaricator. The coffin-nail was not made in those days. It may be he alludes to the smoke made of sweet fern, dried on the woodshed roof and burned behind the fence when two or more gathered; but those were not cigarettes; they were home-made "cigars," and the acme of dissipation in that time.—Portland Oregonian.

The announcement that Petrograd has suffered another change of name, and is henceforth to be known as Leningrad, will be a warning to cartographers not to hurry with the map of Russia. Those who are issuing their war maps in monthly parts will be wise to conclude their series with Sovietland, or whatever its name will be. And even then it may be necessary to trace the country on a slate background, for the convenience of those who like to keep their geography up to date. Leningrad today may be Trotskygrad tomorrow, and Moscow and Nijinovgorod will hardly retain their old-world form. Trotscow seems inevitable.—London Daily Chronicle.

VICTORIA ELECTORS SLOW IN REGISTERING

So Far Attendance of Voters at Booths Has Been Small —Time for Registration Closes July 15

Registration of electors for the new Provincial voters' list is not proceeding with any degree of speed so far as the registration booths opened by the Government at various points throughout the city are concerned, though the Election Commissioners appointed at the request of the political and other organizations are busy taking applications and seeing to it that supporters of their particular brand of politics or policies are putting in their applications. With the official registration booths open for nearly a week the total registration taken thereat is comparatively small, the public showing a decided apathy in making their appearance.

While it has been announced time and time again that as all previous voters' lists have been cancelled by the coming into effect of the new Provincial Elections Act, there is a surprising number of people who are hugging the delusion that because their names appeared on previous lists or being property owners with their names on the municipal voters' lists, they do not require to again register. The fact is that under the new Election Act only those who make personal application to get on the list now being compiled will have opportunity to cast a ballot at the forthcoming plebescite on the liquor question or vote at a Provincial election. This personal application is obligatory.

Closes July 15

The registration will cease on July 15 next and at the present rate of going there will be a large part of the qualified voting population left off the lists.

There has been considerable delay on the part of the Government in naming deputy registrars throughout the Province to take applications. These officials named and paid by the Government to expedite the registration are in addition to the Election Commissioners and other officials who are entitled to take applications. Deputies are only now being named for some electoral ridings, while in others none so far have been appointed.

Throughout the Province the Conservatives are giving the Government forces an object lesson in appointment of Election Commissioners, every riding being well equipped with party workers busy taking applications. Here in Victoria the party organization has been alive to the situation and is daily adding to its force of commissioners.

The attention of the public is drawn to the fact that commissioners for taking affidavits, notaries public, etc., before whom an elector may make application are not entitled to charge any fee for taking the declaration.

Where to Register

The locations of the registration booths opened by the Government in Victoria are as follows:

Central—St. Francis Hotel, 550 Yates Street.

Victoria West—414 Skinner Street.

Douglas and Burnside—675 Burnside Street.

Hillside Avenue, East—2784 Cedar Hill Road.

Fernwood and Gladstone—1302 Gladstone Avenue.

Oak Bay Junction—Brook's Store.

Fairfield—249 Cook Street.

James Bay—Niagara and Menzies Streets.

MR. BOWSER TO VISIT POINTS IN INTERIOR

Conservative Leader Will Familiarize Himself With Present Conditions Throughout the Province

In line with his customary practice of, between sessions, visiting the various portions of the Province to study conditions and place himself in a position to deal intelligently with public affairs when the Legislature is in session, Mr. W. J. Bowser, K.C., Conservative leader, will leave on Saturday night on the first of a number of trips he will make through the Province this Summer.

He will leave Vancouver Sunday evening via the Kettle Valley Railway, spending Monday in the Greenwood riding, Tuesday at Grand Forks and arriving at Nelson on Wednesday. At this latter point he will attend the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Masonic Order and spend a day or two in that district. On Saturday he will arrive at Creston, where he will visit Camp Lister, the soldier settlement area, concerning which there was much criticism of the Government's policy in respect thereto at the recent session of the Legislature. The following Monday Mr. Bowser will be at Fernie, and on Tuesday and Wednesday he will visit Cranbrook and Fort Steele. Thence he will travel to Windermere and up the Columbia Valley to Golden, returning via Revelstoke and Kamloops, at which latter point he will make his last stop. Mr. Bowser expects to be back in Victoria about the end of the present month.

In addition to making a first-hand study of conditions at the various points visited the Conservative leader will confer with the local Conservatives, matters of reorganization being the chief subject to be dealt with. The present registration for the Provincial voters' list and the possibility of a general election being called within the next few months is keeping the party leaders on the qui vive, and throughout the Province the Conservatives are actively getting their organization perfected.

PLAINTIFF AWARDED DAMAGES AND COSTS

Insular Neighbors' Quarrel Results In Court Awarding Two Hundred Dollars and Costs Against Defendant

Damages for the plaintiff in the sum of $200, with costs, was the result of the three days' trial of the libel suit of Campbell vs. Shaw, which came to an end in the Supreme Court yesterday with that decision of Mr. Justice Macdonald. The learned judge said that the result of the trial had vindicated the character of the plaintiff; and His Lordship commented in severe terms on the course pursued by the defendant. At the same time he, the learned judge, thought that the ends of justice would be served without the infliction of special or heavy or substantial damages.

In reciting the grounds of his decision, Mr. Justice Macdonald traversed the whole field of insular history which this action between past and present residents of Gabriola Island had explored. The plaintiff, said the learned judge, was seeking to recover damages from the defendant, on account of a libel alleged to be contained in a letter written by the latter last year to Mr. J. O. Cameron, president of the Gabriola Shale Products Company, of whose plant on Gabriola Island the plaintiff was at that time the manager.

Leading up to this letter there had been many instances of friction between the two men. There had been a controversy about the location of a proposed wharf for the island, in which the two men had taken opposing sides. Public meetings had been held, and feeling had run high. There had been troubles about foreshore rights and again plaintiff and defendant had come into opposition. There had been trouble about a well on defendant's property; in which matter the defendant had shown no spirit of accommodation. There had been a very trivial matter, as it turned out, in relation to the cutting of timber belonging to the defendant.

Unforgiving Disposition

Neither of these men, continued the learned judge, had shown himself to be of a forgiving disposition. They had shown that it was impossible for them to forget these differences. He was satisfied that there had existed between them no good feeling. It was this feeling that had led up to the writing of the letter complained of.

That letter on the whole, said Mr. Justice Macdonald, was an unwarranted attack upon a man in a position of trust. It was an altogether unnecessary letter. In it the defendant had vented his feelings against the plaintiff. It had been intended to affect the plaintiff's position as manager of the company. The letter had tended to convey the effect that the plaintiff was unworthy of the confidence of his employers.

The learned judge went on to comment in detail upon all the damaging statements made by the defendant in his letter about the plaintiff. On the facts as to all these details the defendant was not entitled to write that letter. The whole tenor of the letter was to convey to the employers of the plaintiff the opinion that their employee was inefficient. Nor had the defendant been on such terms with Mr. Cameron as to warrant the contention now that the occasion was privileged. And even had the occasion been privileged such a letter would still have lacked justification. His Lordship was bound to come to the conclusion that the letter constituted a libel.

Defence Had Failed

The defence set up had failed. The defendant, therefore, had become liable for damages. In this case, continued the learned judge, the plaintiff had claimed special damages. His Lordship did not think, however, that the letter had caused any especial damage to the plaintiff. He did not think the plaintiff had been removed from his position of manager of the company because of the letter. Plaintiff had remained in the service of the Camerons, and was now in a position of responsibility.

As to the question of heavy or substantial damages the learned judge could not view the effects of this letter as though it had been published in a newspaper. The defendant had not followed up the letter with any further libel. The character of the plaintiff had been vindicated in that court. He would give judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $200, with costs.

Mr. J. R. Green appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. B. Robertson for the defendant.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

GIRLS' CORNER CLUB HONORS PRESIDENT

The regular Thursday evening meeting of this live and useful organization was marked by an event of more than ordinary interest at the I.O.O.F. Hall last night. The members of the club, desiring to mark their appreciation of the untiring interest and co-operation in their work shown by Mrs. Woodward, the president, took the occasion of her approaching departure for a long visit to the Old Country to present her with an illuminated address. The meeting was enlivened by a number of attractive musical selections by various members of the club.

Their address was as follows: "Dear President,—Our hearts are full of praise and thankfulness to God for your zeal and helpful co-operation in His work amidst us, and most heartily do we wish you a pleasant voyage to England. May traveling mercies and a warm welcome await you, and, by the grace of our Lord, we trust for a safe return journey, bringing you back again to us, whose love and prayers go with you.—(Signed) Secretary-Treasurer Rose Mackay."

OTTAWA, June 10.—The Government's bill repealing the clauses in the Immigration Act giving the Minister of Immigration power to summarily deport British-born residents of Canada found guilty of sedition or conspiracy against established authority (this legislation was passed last year at the time of the Winnipeg strike), was rejected in the Senate yesterday by a non-party vote of 30 to 17.

This means that the law will stand as passed last year, and that no change can be made during the present session.

MISS EDNA M. BREWSTER MARRIED YESTERDAY

Daughter of the Late Premier Weds Mr. Stylie B. Hamilton at Quiet Ceremony at First Presbyterian Church

Charming simplicity characterized the marriage of Miss Edna Merne Brewster, daughter of the late Hon. Harlan Carey Brewster, Premier of British Columbia, and the late Mrs. Brewster, to Stylie Brown Hamilton, of this city, at the First Presbyterian Church last evening at 9:15. Rev. J. G. Inkster was the officiating minister. The wedding was very quiet, and only close relatives and a few intimate friends of the popular young couple were in attendance. Mr. Harrly Charlesworth played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Capt. Brewster, of Vancouver, looked very pretty in her traveling suit, a tailleur costume of sand-colored serge, with hat of French blue corded silk, and a white fox scarf. Her bouquet was a shower of bridal roses and carnations. Miss Marjorie Brewster, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, wore a charming dress of white satin, with trimmings of pink Georgette and a becoming picture hat of white satin, her bouquet being composed of pink roses and fern. Miss Estelle Roberts, as bridesmaid, wore a smart suit of grey Jersey with French blue facings, and a picture hat of black tulle, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. Roy Clegg supported the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for Vancouver on the midnight boat, and after an extended trip on the Mainland they will return to Victoria to make their home. The bridegroom is a returned man, and both he and his bride have many friends in the city who will unite in extending good wishes for their future happiness.

WEDDINGS

Stone-Dee

At "Breadalbane," Fort Street, on Wednesday evening, the Rev. Dr. Campbell celebrated the marriage of Albert Stone and Miss Margaret Ann Williams Dee. The groom was supported by John Williams Dee, the bride's brother, and the bridesmaid was Miss Kathleen Isobel Jones. Mrs. E. F. Jones was matron of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Stone will make their home in Victoria.

Philbrook-France

A pretty wedding took place at "Breadalbane," the minister's residence, on Wednesday evening, when Captain the Rev. Dr. Campbell officiated at the marriage of Harold Gordon Philbrook and Miss Mabel France. The bridegroom was accompanied by Arthur John Demper, and the bride, who looked charming in a traveling suit of navy blue serge, with hat en suite, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, was attended as maid of honor by Miss Martha Ann Caldwell, who wore a suit of grey serge and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, and Miss Gladys Bowles was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Philbrook, on their return from a trip to the Sound cities, will make their home in Victoria.

Clark-Walker

The wedding took place at Emanuel Baptist Church on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Rev. William Stevenson officiating, of William Timbrel Clark, of Ioco, and Mary Walker, of Victoria and Cumbreland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, of Victoria and Cumberland. The bride wore her traveling suit of sand colored serge, with blue picture hat, and was accompanied by Miss Edith Alberta Hurst, similarly costumed. The best man was Mr. Trevor Baker. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a black fox fur, to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch, and to the best man a tie pin. The couple went away on the Seattle boat, and will make their home in Ioco.

Smith-Brindley

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday at the Belmont Avenue Methodist Church, when Dorothy Millicent, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brindley, of 1617 Pembroke Street, and Ira Francis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith, of Point Ellice, were united in marriage. The Rev. John Robson, of Vancouver, formerly of this circuit, officiated, and Mr. Bear presided at the organ. The bride's sister, Miss Hilda Constance Brindley, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Roy Hudson supported the bridegroom. The bride was given away by her father. There were about 175 guests at the church, and after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and carnations. Refreshments were served and the ceremony of cutting the three-tier cake was performed by the bridesmaid. The bride wore a charming white silk dress with veil and orange blossoms. The happy pair left by the 4:30 boat to spend their honeymoon in California. There was a very large display of valuable presents, including that of the bridegroom to the bride, a gold wrist watch; while bride's to the groom was a pair of gold cuff links, the bridesmaid's present being a gold pendant and chain. A few days previously the bride was the guest of honor at a shower given by her Sunday school class at the home of Mrs. James Parfitt, Gladstone Avenue.

Harris -Millington

The marriage of Mr. William W. Harris and Miss Charlotte Millington took place very quietly on Wednesday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Dr. Leslie Clay, Linden Avenue.

PRETTY WEDDING AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Nuptials of Miss Edna McNiven and J. A. McMillan Celebrated Last Evening at Charming Ceremony

One of the most picturesque weddings of the month was that of Miss Edna Vera McNiven, only daughter of James D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, and Mrs. McNiven, of 601 Cook Street, who was married last night to James Alexander McMillan, son of the Late James McMillan, B.A., and Mrs. McMillan, of Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Inkster at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30, in the presence of a large congregation of interested friends of the popular young couple.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of white satin de Chine with panniers of embroidered georgette crepe, and trimmed with orange blossoms and pearls. She had a full court train fastened at the shoulder with orange blossoms and embroidered in lovers' knots with pearls. Her filmy veil was of embroidered net and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The frocks of the attendants were in the pastel shades. Miss Lillian Clark, of Vancouver, as maid of honor, wore Nile green pussy willow taffeta with overdrapery of silk net and touches of silver and pink. Miss Lillian Revell and Miss Irene Gardner, of Vancouver, were the bridesmaids, the former wearing maise pussy willow taffeta with overdrape of silk net and touches of pink. All three attendants wore picture hats in shades to match their frocks, and carried bouquets of pink and mauve sweet peas and pink rosebuds. Mr. Joe McMillan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. While the bridal party was in the vestry signing the register, Miss Eleanor McLennan, who wore a dress of gold lace and hat to match, sang "O Promise Me" with much sweetness and charm. Mrs. McNiven, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of navy blue tricolette with taffeta hat to match, a mink cape completing a very modish costume. The groom's mother wore black silk poplin with hat en suite.

Following the ceremony at the church the bride's mother held a reception at which over one hundred guests extended their felicitations to the happy pair. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with roses, carnations, white heather and greenery, and an effective color scheme was carried out in the dining-room. The huge wedding cake, which occupied the centre of the table beneath a pretty floral bell, was topped and surrounded by vases of pink rosebuds, and the many handsome presents received by the young couple were displayed here and greatly admired by everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillan left by the midnight boat for the Mainland, where the honeymoon will be spent.

ROARING BUSINESS AT NAVY LEAGUE FETE

Various Stalls Each Day Practically Disposed of All Their Wares—Numerous Helpers Work Hard

The stalls at the Navy League Fete, the New Drill Hall, did a splendid business both days. The babies' stall, in charge of Mrs. A. L. Marsh, was designed by Mrs. W. Spavin, pink and white trellis work, from which depended tiniest of kewpies, forming the overhead canopy. Rattles, soap, powder, knitted coatees, silver mugs and feeding spoons, made up the wares. Assisting was a committee of parents of the Boys' Naval Brigade.

Mrs. Slingsby, Mrs. Ketchen and Mrs. McKenzie were in charge of the bric-a-brac stall, some of the most beautiful things in which were given by Mrs. Murdoch, the antique dealer, and Weiler's. A big Chinese umbrella formed the roof, and the pillars were of broom and poppies.

Mrs. Maclure and Mrs. Semayne made silhouettes and sketch portraits in the "Black and White" room, which was an annex of the art stall run by the Isaldn Arts and Crafts Club, in charge of Mrs. Shaw. Framed pictures, books, art beads, etc., constituted the stock-in-trade.

The tea and coffee section of the fete was splendidly managed by Mrs. Ranns and Mr. G. T. Maurice, who were incessantly busy with patrons.

The guessing competitions nearby offered some wonderful prizes: a bookcase given by Macey's; a Singer sewing machine given by the Singer Company; and an antique settee, valued at $250, given by Mrs. Murdoch.

The fancy-work section was another well patronized department, Mrs. Bloomfield and Miss Bloomfield being in control. Adjoining was the candy stall, where Miss Jean Tolmie, Miss Totie Day and Miss Kitty Fraser found ready custom for their toothsome homemade sweets put up in attractive black japanned boxes.

Fortune Telling Attractive

Mrs. Shaw was convener of the flower stall, her assistants, who were attired in picturesque dress, being the Misses Vivian Matson, Cicely Simmons, Wolfenden, and B. Streatfield. Fortune telling found many patrons, Madame Galea and Madame Valencia occupying the tents.

Just at the entrance to the ice-cream parlor, of which the Navy League Chapter were in charge, was a spinning jenny operated by Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, whose assistants were Mrs. Burge, Mrs. Gaudion and Miss Violet Mesher. In the afternoon the prizes took the form of toys for children, who formed the majority of the custom; while in the evening "smokes" were the commodity. The icecream parlor was operated by Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Whittier and Mrs. Lewis, the menu including Sundaes with such nautical names as "Rainbow Glide," "Jack Tar," "Navy League," and "Torpedo Bang."

A feature of the fete was the room set aside for children. There were fish pools, bran dips, rocking horses, and a children's stall, the delight of the younger folk, Mrs. Sinnott and Mrs. David acting as guides.

Fiedler's orchestra furnished a constant programme of music, which gave the orthodox atmosphere during the boxing exhibition given by boys of the Naval Brigade. The last mentioned were everywhere, and tireless. They acted as errand boys and messengers, assisted with the serving of tea, and in a hundred different ways proved their usefulness.

The pageant will be reproduced tomorrow evening.

HOW WHALING IS CONDUCTED IN B. C.

Interesting Story Told by Dr. Baker Last Night to B. C. Manufacturers in Connection With Entertainment

The purgatory of Mr. Whale has the advantage of being at least picturesque. This much could be seen from the vividly interesting pictures shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, when the visiting Canadian Manufacturers were the guests of the local Rotary Club. The story of the killing, division and distribution of one of the huge aquatic mammals harpooned off the south end of Queen Charlotte Islands was told by Dr. Baker, chairman of the Provincial Game Conservation Board, the film running as illustration of his comments. It became apparent as the tale proceeded that it could not possibly have been a leviathan of this type which swallowed Jonah, not because its stomach would have been too small to admit an average sized man with comfort (one was shown standing up quite at ease within the enormous cavity of the mammal dissected), but because its throat is so contracted that not even an orange could be gulped down with any ease. And the particular specimen under analysis was no less than seventy feet in length and weighed over sixty tons.

Dr. Baker told many other things which could not be half so well described without the accompanying illustrations. The whaling ground at Queen Charlotte Sound; a modern whaler, with the man at the yards giving the signal as to the whereabouts of a "spouter"; the firing of the harpoon; the towing of the monster to port; the "stripping" away of the skin, a process very much resembling the peeling of a banana; and the separation of the blubber, flesh, bones, etc., were all vividly set forth in the splendid film.

Other Industries

So much for whaling, one of the industries of British Columbia which is evidently quite extensive, judging from the announcement of the speaker that over a thousand whales were caught off the south of Queen Charlotte Islands alone last year.

But British Columbia has other occupations for its citizens; the herring fisheries, lumbering, copper mining, pulp and paper manufacture—all were described by picture, the big smelter at Anyox and the enormous pulp mills at Powell River making dramatic subjects. Incidentally much of the grandest scenery of the Coast and Interior was shown, and on occasion this was so beautiful that the spectators broke into applause.

During the evening Mr. George Bushby came on the stage and invited the visitors to the pageant at the Drill Hall. He brought with him three boys of the Naval Brigade and their instructor, the last a man who had been twenty-five years in the service of the navy, and who was now giving his entire spare time to training the lads.

The programme included some much-appreciated musical numbers. Mrs. Macdonald Fahey, who was in rarely fine voice, giving two groups of songs which were received enthusiastically, encores being demanded again and again. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gibson. The Arion Club, under the baton of Mr. Herbert Kent, and with Mr. Howard Russell at the piano, were also vociferously applauded.

IN THE COURTS

Court of Appeal

In the Court of Appeal yesterday the case of Hearn v. Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway was heard, and the appeal dismissed. Mr. A. H. MacNeill, K.C., appeared for the defendant-appellant, and Mr. W. J. Taylor, K.C., for the plaintiff-respondent.

The case of Gillespie re the Municipal Act occupied the greater part of yesterdays' session of the Court of Appeal. The court reserved judgment. Mr. F. A. McDiarmid appeared for the appellant, and Mr. A. H. MacNeill, K.C., for the respondent.

Peremptory List

The peremptory list of cases set for hearing in the Court of Appeal today is as follows: Buscombe Securities v. Windebanke; Gladstone Local Union v. Dragon; and Sharron v. Voisey.

Mr. Alexander Brethour, of Taylor & Brethour, yesterday secured from Mr. Justice Macdonald an order for the garnishee issue to be tried to determine the liability of R. T. Elliott, K.C., in the $1,000,000 Hodgson-Elliott-Dunsmuir suit concerned with the distribution of the commission for the sale of the $10,000,000 Dunsmuir coal mines near Ladysmith and Comox district. Mr. Brethour is acting for Ephriam E. Hodgson, who has been claiming half of the commission.

ACTION INVOLVES CONTROL OF PAPER

Interesting Case Will Come Before Chief Justice Sitting at Prince Rupert

In the case of Herbert J. Vanderhoof v. W. J. Rimes Publishing Co., an application for change of venue from Vancouver, where the action was commenced, to Prince Rupert, was made by the defendant lawyers, Messrs. Young and Ogsten, of this city. The lawyers were unable to agree upon Prince George as a venue for the case, and Prince Rupert was agreed upon for the trial of the case. The hearing will, therefore, come before Chief Justice Hunter at the Prince Rupert assizes, which will be held during the next two weeks.

The plaintiff claims that the defendant usurped the plant of The Vanderhoof Herald, of Vanderhoof, changed the name of the paper to The Nechaco Chronicle, and is now publishing illegally on a plant that does not belong to him.

There are many claims in connection with the case. The main ones are the claim of the plaintiff for a 51 per cent interest in the W. J. Rimes Company, damages for $10,000 on account of fraud, $5000 breach of contract and an injunction against the publishing of The Nechaco Chronicle.

The plaintiff is represented by the law firm of Ellis & Brown, of Vancouver, and it is expected that Mr. Brown will be in Vancouver to handle the case.—Prince George Citizen.

TOURING EASON IS NEARLY HERE

As the touring season approaches, the motorist who contemplates a trip will do well to gather a large fund of information, much of which will keep him out of trouble and contribute to the fun of his vacation.

In this connection it is interesting to know that the electric system of a car which has been used for city driving, may need readjusting to meet touring conditions. This is particularly true when you consider the effect of long drives on the storage battery. In city driving the starter may be used frequently, and the actual running time of the engine may be comparatively limited. In touring the conditions are practically reversed, and to meet them certain adjustments can be made on the generator which replaces the current in the battery. The dealer who sold the car should be consulted on this question.

Unless adjusted to meet the changed conditions of touring, the generator will force more electricity into the battery than the battery is called upon to furnish the starter. As a result the battery will get overheated and may be seriously damaged.

It is advisable for the touring motorist to feel of the battery cell connectors once in a while. If they seem more than blood warm to the touch it is safe to assume that the battery is hotter than is good for it. A very simple remedy for this difficulty, however, is to burn all the lights while driving, even in the daytime, for the remainder of the day.

The best way to prevent such a necessity, however, is to have your generator adjusted to touring conditions before you start, on the principle that it is better to prevent an overheated condition than to cure it after it has started.

First Month's Cricket Has Much of Interest

SPORTING NEWS

Capitals Take Three Straight From Indians

CHANGE IN CONGOS' FORTUNE REMARKABLE

First Month's Play in Senior Cricket League Produces Some Interesting Results—Leading Clubs Strong

The clubs in the senior cricket league have now completed a full month of interesting play. Although J. Pluvius has certainly been a little unkind on cricket days, all the matches ahve been duly played, and, as the results show now, there are at least four clubs—Congos, Incogs, Five C's and Victoria—with a good chance of capturing the Virtue Cup.

The Congos, who are the present leaders, have emerged wonderfully in contrast to their lowly estate of last season, and they are still unbeaten; but, whether they will remain so after meeting the Incogs tomorrow, is a very debatable question with most followers of the game giving the odds against them. The Incogs are very strong, especially in batting; they have have lost only one match, that with the Five C's, and, if Kinch is able to assist them again, are probably the most dangerous team in the league.

The Five C's have delighted their friends by their consistent all-round play. Wilkinson, their star bowler, being almost unplayable at times; and, although they dropped two points last Saturday to the Congos, it is claimed by their supporters that the weather had something to do with the result.

Victoria also has a very good side, and, with more cohesion and practice, would be very formidable. Although they have lost matches to the Incogs and Five C's, they are very much in the running.

That other old veteran club, the Albions, have certainly had a rather rocky start, but may be depended on to make the other clubs go all the way from now on.

As for the Garrison and Army and Navy, though at present bringing up the rear, that may not always be so. Judging from the keenness of the Army and Navy at the nets, they are imbued with the right sporting spirit, and they are improving every week.

A little pointed, if kindly, criticism has been directed at the home clubs at the Beacon Hill ground, to whom it is suggested that a very few dollars spent in getting the hay cut in the long field and filling up the worst of the ravines and rolling down the hillocks would make it much pleasanter for all the players who visit them from time to time.

BILLIARD HANDICAP FIRST ROUND ENDED

Last Game at Two Jacks Was Decided by Single Point—Good Matches Ahead in Second Round

The first round of the English billiard handicap tournament at the Two Jacks was brought to an end with a very close game between Birch (r. 50) and Livesey (r. 65), the issue being in doubt right up to the end, when Birch won by a single point.

Now that the second round has been reached, it is expected that the tournament will go ahead at a much faster rate. With such an extremely large entry as 128 players it has taken a long time to get all the games completed. The second round is bound to be more interesting than the first, and the appended draw shows that a large number of the matches in this round will be between very evenly matched players. The draw for the second round is as follows:

Lamb r. 50 v. Hindle o. 325.
Blackmore r. 25 v. Hurd r. 125.
Spencer r. 100 v. Hick r. 100.
Anderson r. 50, v. Reeve r. 50.

Meyers Beats Engel

DUBUQUE, June 10.—Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight wrestling champion, successfully defended his title here last night when he defeated "Heinie" Engel in two straight falls. He won the first fall in 35:20 with a toe hold, injuring Engel's leg so badly that, when Engel returned for the second fall, it was only a matter of half a minute when he conceded the bout.

Y.M.C.A. ENLARGING SCOPE OF ACTIVITY IN SPORT BRANCHES

In response to a request from the National Council office, the physical directors of thirty-four Y.M.C.A.'s in Canada recently sent in a detailed record of their activities for the previous three months. In the physical classes of these associations there was a total enrolment of 35,921, with a total attendance of 222,596. Of the 34 associations reporting, 32 played basketball, 31 volleyball, 20 indoor baseball, 20 conducted indoor athletics, 10 played hockey, 11 taught wrestling, 12 boxing, 14 had handball courts, 13 had bowling alleys, 23 taught swimming, 11 had life-saving classes.

The record of games played, contests held and classes conducted indicates the great amount of activity around the association buildings. Many of the associations are extending the programme of their physical education department beyond the gymnasium, co-operating with the churches in their work with men and boys. Under the leadership of Fred J. Smith, the national secretary of the physical education department, the local associations are enlarging the scope and usefulness of the physical department. By the use of books, pictures, charts, stereopticon views and moving pictures, as well as personal direction, the national office Y.M.C.A. is assisting the local physical directors in their enlarged field of activities.

TENDLER HAS BETTER OF RITCHIE MITCHELL

Philadelphia Lightweight Gets Press Verdict After No-Decision Bout—Georges Carpentier Boxes Exhibition

MILWAUKEE, June 10.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia, was given the newspaper decision over Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee lightweight boxer, in a ten-round no-decision bout, which went the limit last night. Tendler showed to advantage in a majority of the rounds.

Each boxer scored a knockdown from stiff blows to the chin, the Milwaukee boy being upset in the first round and Tendler hitting the canvas in the ninth session.

Each boxer was guaranteed $15,000, and the auditorium, which was filled to capacity, showed receipts of approximately $37,000.

Georges Carpentier, the French ace, boxed an exhibition bout with his Belgian sparring partner. An effort is being made to have the proposed Carpentier-Levinsky bout staged in Milwaukee.

SOCCER QUESTION IS NOT YET DECIDED

Upper Island Association Resolves to Affiliate With B. C. P. F. A.—Local Body Decides Next Week

At the conference of soccer delegates held on Wednesday evening at Nanaimo, when the principal business was the discussion of affiliation with the B.C.P.F.A., the Upper Island Association passed a resolution to do so, but with the string on the resolution that it was to be referred to the various teams in the association for their approval.

The Victoria and District Football Association has not yet come to any decision in this matter, but a meeting is to be called early next week in order to decide whether the local association shall remain affiliated with the B.C.F.A. or transfer its allegiance to the B.C.P.F.A., which is the provincial body recognized by the D.F.A.

President Jimmy Adam and Secretary Archie Baker, of the local association, were accompanied to Nanaimo by Jack Youson, who took part in the discussion and gave the meeting the benefit of his wide experience in soccer management.

Among other matters discussed at the conference was the organization for next year of an Island Football League, which, it is expected, would create a livelier interest in soccer by creating competition between the Island teams instead of allowing the local teams to drag out a long season competing with each other. According to the plan outlined by Jimmy Adam, of which he is the sponsor, the local associations would carry on their league until Christmas, when the Island League would be started, with four teams from Victoria and four from the Upper Island Association competing.

TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT FROM THE INDIANS

Cliff Blankenship's Row With Umpire Held Is Beginning of the End for Spokane—Get 17 Hits Off Crespi

Probably if anyone asked Cliff Blankenship, portly manager of the Spokane Indians, who won yesterday's ball game at the Stadium, he would shoot back quick as a flash, "Red Held." And he might qualify the reply by adding that when Held had won it he handed it over to Victoria. As a matter of fact, Victoria took the game and by a decisive margin, but Umps Held took only a small part in it. And if the mystery of who was really responsible for Spokane's loss was traced down to the source, the investigator would discover that one Cliff Blankenship had as much to do with it as anyone.

Here is the chronology of the affair: At the end of the fourth inning Spokane was leading, 6 to 2. Morton was wild and ineffective, and the home fans were ready to concede that Spokant had the edge. Then Gingiardi, the Indian shortstop, singled. Morton caught him off first with a fast throw, and Held called Gingiardi out. This started an altercation that resulted in Blankenship being banished from the park, and along with him went Downey, second baseman, who had helped Cliff argue it out with Held.

Stranger in Right Field

Following the mystery still deepens it is disclosed that Downey's departure made it necessary to bring Outfielder Shoots in to cover the keystone sack, and to right field was sent Genin, Spokane's second string catcher. It was this boy Genin who had the opportunity to prevent the terrible onslaught that followed at the expense of Bill Crespi, pitching for the Siwashes. With two Victorians out, Kelley knocked a fly into right field, close in. Genin could have picked the ball up and tossed Kelley out at first for the third out. But Genin noticed Dempsey at third and hesitated. Instead of the side being retired, the bases were filled and the Capitals then proceeded to land on Crespi brutally. They piled up seven hits and made them go for six runs.

Harry Morton twirled for Victoria, and, while somewhat erratic in the opening frames, he settled down later. He was encouraged by the stick work of his team mates in the fifth and after the sixth held the visitors without a hit.

Brutal to Crespi

Bill Crespi's offerings, however, soon lost their mystery. He allowed only a couple of safeties in the first three innings, but in the fourth he showed signs of wobbling, and Lambert started to warm up. Three hits in succession gave the Capitals a run. A double by Dempsey and a wild pitch had brought in a tally in the second.

In the fifth Crespi went to pieces. Ten batters faced him in that awful period and seven of them got on the bases. With one down, Leard started out with a single to centre and went to second on Brown's out. Carman's single to left brought Leard home. Then Dempsey singled to centre and so did Kelley. It was here that Genin's poor judgment in right field spoilt Spokane's chances. Morton slammed out a single to left field and Carman scored. Dempsey made a wonderful dash home on the throw in. Carter Elliott's double scored Kelley and Morton, and Church's hit sent Elliott across the pan, with the sixth tally. Lambert replaced Crespi at the start of the sixth.

Victoria added one more run in the seventh when Dempsey lifted the ball over the fence, and again in the ninth, when Carman and Dempsey worked a double steal.

Morton was hit fairly hard during the first few innings, and a couple of singles, followed by a double, brought in a run for Spokane in the first. In the second, errors by Morton and Brown, who lost Gatewood's fly in the sun, coupled with a base on balls, helped the Indians to another run.

How Spokane Scored

Two walks, followed by a smashing single by Gingiardi, resulted in two more runs for Spokane in the fourth, and the same number of counts were added in the following stanza when Shoots got a three-bagger, and Mitchell and Genin singled. After that the Indians were practically helpless.

It was a field day for the baserunners yesterday. Four bases were stolen by the Victorians and an equal number by the visitors.

Dempsey, Victoria's young first-sacker, made the most of his chance to boost his batting average yesterday. In five times up he got his daily home run, a double and two singles. The day before he got five hits in as many times up. Elliott connected with the ball for four safeties yesterday in five appearances at the plate.

The only Spokan player to get more than one hit was Gingiardi, who played a fast and effective game all round. In the sixth inning he stepped into one of Morton's fast ones and caught it on the side of the head. It looked like a knockout at first, but he was game and finished.

Today is Ladies' Day. The game starts at 6:10.

UNITED SERVICES GOLF

Eclectic Competition Starts Today—Mrs. Miller Is Winner of Ladies' Handicap

The United Service Golf Club is starting an eclectic competition today, play to continue until June 28, the conditions being two rounds of 18 holes medal play. Cards can be obtained from either the professional or the groundsman, and must be turned in immediately after play. Three-quarter handicap will be allowed and there will be no entrance fee. Prizes will be given to the winners of both the ladies' and gentlemen's competitions, and the officers of the club are very anxious that every member will compete.

Mr. Collings, the captain of the club, stated yesterday that he is trying to arrange a match with the Colwood club, which will probably be played at Colwood on June 27.

The ladies' handicap tournament, which has been in progress for some time, was finally won by Mrs. Miller, who defeated Miss Thomson rather easily in the final round.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP DRAW HAS BEEN MADE

Nearly Two Hundred Players Enter for Open British Title Event — Play to Start June 23

LONDON, June 10.—The draws for the open golf championship at Deal were made here last night. There are 168 professional and 22 amateur entries, which is only four less than for the open championship in 1914. The qualifying competitions will be played at Walton and Weybridge on June 23 and 24, and the championship games on the Deal links on June 30 and July 1.

Big men are divided remarkably well. The qualifying games will be played in two sections, A and B. Somewhat unfortunately the two Americans, Walter Hagen and Jim Barnes, will play in the same section, A, in which also Harry Vardon, the holder; Arnaud Massey, Abe Mitchell, Jack White and Angel de la Torre, the Spanish champion, are playing. Section B includes four ex-champions —James Braid, Ted Ray, J. M. Taylor and Alec Herd, besides two famous Frenchmen, Maurice Dauge and Jean Gassiat. Hagen is drawn against A. R. Wheildon, of Mosely, and Barnes against A. B. Tingey, of Bedfordshire.

home market for American labor, agriculture and industry.

Development of a merchant marine, with the application of the workmen's compensation laws to the men manning the American ships, was also advocated.

A higher physical standard of immigrants was urged and the platform urged Congress to consider the most effective way to end lynching, which continued to be a blot on the country.

The party favored a fixed and comprehensive policy of reclamation to increase national wealth and production, and urged liberal legislation in the interests of those who had fought in the war and who had been disabled.

Women were welcomed into full participation in the affairs of Government and the activities of the Republican party.

Condemnation was expressed of President Wilson for asking Congress to empower him to accept a mandate for Armenia, the acceptance of which would throw America into the very maelstrom of European quarrels.

For Hawaii the platform recommended Federal assistance in Americanizing and educating the greatly disproportionate population, home rule and the rehabilitation of the Hawaiian race.

No Reference to Ireland

The Republican platform omits all reference to Ireland. Planks proposed by Irish sympathisers were lost before the resolutions sub-committee and not pressed in the full committee or convention.

The Irish cause twice went down to defeat before the sub-committee. A plank proposed by Frank P. Walsh, said to have been sponsored by Eamonn de Valera, calling for recognition of the Irish republic, was rejected by the sub-committee, members stated, without dissent. Louis E. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, then offered another plank of more moderate tone, but it was lost on a tie vote, six to six, according to reports from the committee.

MRS. CATT RESIGNS SUFFRAGE PRESIDENCY

GENEVA, June 10. — Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt resigned the presidency of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, at the session of that body held today. She delivered a sympathetic speech, saying that though she felt like a mother to all after sixteen years as president of the alliance, her age and her diminished energies compelled her to relinquish the task.

London was chosen as the permanent seat of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, at this morning's session of its congress.

Laws guaranteeing a living wage for all toilers, equal pay for equal work, abolition of sweat shops and child labor legislation, were outlined by Mrs. Josephus Daniels today, to the International Woman's Suffrage conference, as measures appealing to the women of the world.

NEWSPRINT SUPPLY FOR CANADIAN PAPERS

OTTAWA, June 10.—The Government has been unsuccessful in its effort to secure assurances of continued supplies for Canadian newspapers now facing suspension owing to inability to get newsprint, although quite prepared to pay current contract prices for export to foreign countries. Legislation, conserving for Canada the domestic requirements of newsprint, seems to be the only possible solution of the present crisis.

Two points are being emphasized by the Canadian publishers—that the total Canadian requirements are less than 15 per cent of the Canadian production, and that no favor is being asked as regards price.

As a sidelight on their own position, the Canadian publishers are threatened with suspension and are citing the fact that certain individual publishers in the United States are each securing from Canada almost as much newsprint as is required by all the daily newspapers of Canada put together.

ICELANDERS CONVEY CONGRATS TO FALCONS

WINNIPEG, June 10.—Still more congratulations have reached the Falcon Hockey Club of Winnipeg, for their feat of winning the world's title at Antwerp. This morning a cable was received from Iceland, as follows:

"The Icelandic Sporting Association is banqueting Captain Frank Frederickson, of the Falcon Hockey Club, tonight, and sends congratulations to the rest of the boys, thanking them for their brilliant victory at Antwerp. (Signed) "P. J. TURSHON."

VANCOUVER TRADERS ON TOUR OF ISLAND

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Leaving tomorrow morning by the early boat, thirty-one members of the wholesale bureau of the Board of Trade will travel to Victoria on the first lap of a four-day trip through Vancouver Island, where they will confer with different boards of trade on matters of general interest to the bureau.

The members will be entertained tomorrow evening by the Duncan Board of Trade. The party will stay over night at Duncan and proceed next morning to Port Alberni, Courtenay, Cumberland, Nanaimo and other points on the Island.

They will take across with them five automobiles and will be reinforced by another five at Victoria, the four-day trip being made by motor car.

INCREASE PROPOSED IN POSTAL CHARGES

OTTAWA, June 10.—Amendments to the Postoffice Act introduced in the House by the Government, provide for an increase in the registration fee on letters and other matter passing through the mails, from five to ten cents.

The rate of postage on newspapers and periodicals printed and published in Canada and issued at intervals of less than one month, is increased from one to two cents a pound, or fraction thereof.

Newspapers and periodicals which are to be transmitted for a distance of more than forty miles, or the publication of which is of greater frequency than once a week, shall be subject to postage at the rate of 1 cent a pound, or fraction thereof, for the year beginning January 1, 1921, and 1 1-2 cent a pound, or fraction thereof, for the following years. This postage is to be affixed by stamp, or as the postmaster-general may decide.

Winnipeg Candidates

WINNIPEG, June 10.—At a meeting held here last night, H. T. MacMillan, Neil Carry and D. S. Lyons were nominated as Independent Liberals to oppose the Government candidates in Winnipeg. For Gilbert Plains, W. D. Findlater, the sitting member, was selected as Liberal candidate.

Ask For Oil Prospecting

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 10.—Notice was given at the Board of Trade meeting today that, at the next meeting of the board on June 17, a resolution will be presented calling on the Dominion Government to prospect the Government reserves along the foothills of the Rockies in Alberta for oil. Other boards of trade in the West are being asked to take similar action, as, according to geologists, there is every possibility of the discovery of oil in the areas covered by these reserves.

Giolitti May Be Premier

Stomach and Liver Trouble

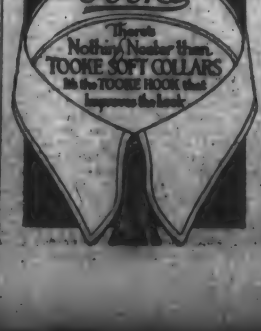

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state, you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SAYS PHOTOGRAPH MADE HER ANGRY

Mrs. Dempsey Annoyed at Picture of Jack as Shipyard Worker In War Time She Claims

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Anger at receiving from Jack Dempsey a photograph of himself as a Philadelphia shipyard worker in war time was the motive that prompted her to make public the fact that he was a "slacker," Mrs. Maxine Dempsey, his former wife, declared on the witness stand today in Dempsey's trial on a charge of evading the draft.

Attorney Gavin McNab, for the defence, asked if her real motive was not desire to get $40,000 or more from Dempsey out of the $250,000 he was expected to receive for boxing Carpentier for the heavyweight championship of the world, but she disclaimed any such intention.

McNab asked if it was not true that she had stated in Wells, Nevada, that she was going to get $40,000 out of Dempsey. The witness replied that Buelah Taylor, another inmate of a resort at Wells, had said she ought to get $40,000 out of a pugilist, and later urged her to try for $75,000, to which her answer had been that she did not want anything.

A large part of the afternoon session was taken up with unsuccessful attempts of the defence to shake Mrs. Dempsey's testimony that she had only received about $900 from her husband from the time his questionnaire was made out in January, 1918, until their final separation in December of that year.

R. W. Burton, cashier of a telegraph office in Salt Lake City, said that on one occasion when Mrs. Dempsey received money from her husband by telegraph, just after his match with Fred Fulton, she remarked: "Fulton must have bit Dempsey because $200 was jarred loose from him." Burton and two other employees of the office testified to paying telegraphic drafts from Dempsey to his wife and mother on various occasions in the year 1918.

One of the two, C. B. Thompson, said Mrs. Dempsey told him that "Jack always sent plenty of money when he had it."

Col. C. W. Thomas, who is conducting the case for the Government, announced in court that, unless cross-examination of Mrs. Dempsey developed new points, she would be the last Government witness. Attorneys said the case might reach the jury Saturday.

VANCOUVER TO HAVE SIX-CENT CAR FARES

OTTAWA, June 10.—Six cent fares on the British Columbia Electric Electric Railway are to be maintained at least until the Public Utilities Commission of the Province has had a chance to again hear arguments on the matter. This is the effect of a decision reached by the railway committee.

A large majority of the committee upheld the contentions of W. A. Boys and other members that the city of Vancouver, the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission and Vancouver ratepayers had considered an increased fare necessary.

W. S. Middlebro, chief Government whip, told the committte, when referring to other street railway systems, he was in favor of Toronto being allowed to charge higher fares.

"Men are asking $8.50 a day and expect the company to carry on with a five cent fare, under conditions which obtained when wages were not nearly so high," he said.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, returned to the city yesterday after an absence of over two weeks, during which he attended the Good Roads convention at Winnipeg. The convention, he stated, was an unqualified success, and the enthusiasm with which the good roads proposals were received indicated the general public interest in what is one of the foremost problems of the country today. It was especially pleasing to the Minister that a British Columbian, and a member of his departmental staff, Mr. A. E. Forman, chief engineer of the department, was selected to hold the important office of president of the Good Roads organization for the ensuing year.

The Minister stopped off at his home at Cranbrook and spent a few days conferring with local officials respecting departmental affairs.

For Chair of U.S. History

LONDON, June 10.—Twenty thousand pounds for endowment of a professorship of United States History has been given to Oxford University by Viscount Rothermere, former Secretary of State for Ireland. The gift is made in memory of Lord Rothermere's son, who was killed in the late war.

No Trifling With the Criminal

Crime generally is taking violent forms—the thief to obtain his ends does not hesitate to kill; jealousy expresses itself in murder. On all hands there is a reckless disregard of human life. It is the aftermath of war that we are reaping. For five long years over half the world man hunted man to kill or to be killed. Human life, which under normal conditions was priceless and protected, became the cheapest thing on earth and the least protected. But the period of war's madness ended long ago. It is time we recovered our senses, time we re-established the moral standards of civilized existence, time we rated human life again at its proper value. Violence of any kind must be sternly put down, and crimes with violence must receive punishment fitting the offence. COLUMBIA THEATRE You've heard of scheming mothers whose ambition is to match the daughters to lords or dukes or other titled persons. In "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy," the picture featuring Marguerite Clark which is coming to the Columbia Theatre during the latter part of the week, the process is reversed. Peggy, the daughter, is seeking to marry her widow mother off to an English nobleman, whose chief hobby is collecting spiders. Since Peggy's mother is also passionately fond of the insects, being the widow of a noted scientist, the girl thinks the match would be an ideal one. Of course, she had no way of knowing that her matchmaking efforts would result in a mass of complications and her own tempestuous love affair. Miss Clark is supported by an excellent company, headed by Jack Mulhall. It is a Paramount Artcraft picture directed by Walter Edwards.

PANTAGES THEATRE Charles Harling, who, with Miss Ann Hamilton, heads the very capable cast of "Thunder Mountain," the feature attraction at the Pantages Theatre this week, will doubtless be known to many people of this city for his stage performances in previous productions touring the West. He played leading parts in Daniel Frohman's sensational one-act production, "Detective Keen" and "A Breath of Old Virginia." "Thunder Mountain" is Langdon McCormack's greatest scenic production. The scene of the story is a lonely cabin in the Canadian Rockies. Storm effects and a terrific explosion which completely demolishes the cabin are so realistically produced that the audience is held in breathless suspense. The rest of the current bill is excellent. An unusually interesting musical revue and a real "nut" comedienne are two of the supporting turns of the headline attraction. One of the best athletic offerings of the season opens the programme and a nifty and neatly staged skit fills another big niche.

DOMINION THEATRE A faithful reproduction of the Bal Masque, which is given annually in Paris by the students of the Latin Quarter, is one of the most effective scenes in the new Paramount Artcraft picture, "His House in Order," starring Elsie Ferguson, which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all week. No expense was spared in making this scene as nearly as possible like the Parisian event. Several hundred extras were used in the Bal Masque, and their costumes are noted for the bizarre and fantastic qualities. The costume worn by Miss Ferguson is a creation that embodies beauty with the unusual and is one of the prettiest costumes ever worn by this beautiful star who has been called the "best dressed woman on the screen."

VARIETY THEATRE Rousing one's self out of a sound slumber is unpleasant enough at the best. How would you like to be awakened by feeling the cold nose of a revolver pressed against your left ear? In "An Adventure in Hearts," the motion picture starring Robert Warwick at the Variety Theatre this week, the hero is a secret agent who escapes from the clutches of Government officials and spends his first night of freedom in a haymow. His pursuer's gun is his alarm clock in the morning. Some idea of the speed with which this entertaining screen romance moves may be gleaned from the fact that the next night Warwick spends in the exquisitely decorated guest chamber of an Italian nobleman. The mewing of a cat outside his room at midnight starts a delightful love affair and plunges the soldier-star into a fine melange of blackmailers, estranged husbands and wives, and scheming villains.

"A ROMANCE OF VICTORIA" IS READY FOR SCREEN

The final touches were added to the film "A Romance of Victoria," at the temporary laboratory of the Hudris Film Company at Seattle yesterday and the picture is on its way to Victoria, where it will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre, beginning Monday, June 14th.

The Royal Victoria Theatre is assured by the Hudris Company that the production is on a par with the finest before the public (as far as the photographic work is concerned). Special tints have been added throughout to beautify the scenes and artistic titles have been made to help dress the production.

PRINCESS PLAY NEXT WEEK HAS BEEN GREAT SUCCESS

Opening Monday, June 14, the Mildred Page Players offer for their third week's production "After Office Hours," a play that has packed every theatre in Canada to the doors, and in the larger cities has been forced to play return dates in order to accommodate those who could not get tickets for the first date. "After Office Hours" has been endorsed by press, the public and the pulpit as one of the greatest stage sermons of the present day, and some of Canada's leading ministers have even gone so far as to say that every mother, father, daughter and marriagable girl should see this play. The story deals with the "unvarnished truth," designed to teach the public of today a real moral lesson. The author tells his story in a straightforward way, without resorting to sensationalism, but trying to teach an instructive lesson which will inspire a loftier motherhood. This subject, which is foremost in every mind today in the civilized world, is so ably presented in "After Office Hours" that it points out its moral so clearly that every man and woman should make it their duty to see this production as it is an education.

EXPLORER TO MAKE FINAL APPEARANCE

Carveth Wells, Who Has Astounded Victorians With Stories of Malay, Will Speak at High School

The last opportunity of Victorians to hear the wonderful jungle stories of Mr. Carveth Wells, who for six years was the official explorer for the British Government in the Malay Peninsula, will come on Thursday evening next, when he will give an illustrated lecture in the big auditorium of the Victoria High School. The lecture is under the patronage of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prior. Those who have heard Mr. Wells who has spoken before a number of organizations already and to the school children of the city, speak in a highly enthusiastic manner of the entertaining and educative features of his talks. Some of the animal life which he describes would seem incredible did not the stories come from a man in Mr. Wells' position.

The seat plan opens on Monday morning at Gordon's, Ltd. In the windows of the store there will be exhibited Malayan costumes, curios and weapons.

Mr. George J. Dyke is managing the Thursday lecture for Mr. Wells.

"PORTIAS" HONOR MISS HAMILTON

The last meeting of the "Portia" Girls' Debating Society of the Victoria High School was held in the school library on Wednesday afternoon, and Miss Jean Graham gave an interesting talk on "Friendship," a very appropriate topic for the farewell meeting. The president, Miss Violet Hastings, then announced the names of those girls who have earned over 75 per cent during the year, and have thus won their "Portia Pins," which will be presented at the closing exercises. The winners are: Dorothy Marchbanks, Marjorie Watson, Kathleen Jackson, Frances Legg, Jessie Graham, Helen Starr and Elsie Masters. The honor of holding the leading position in the series of inter-year debates falls to the preliminary year.

To show their appreciation which the society feels towards Miss Mary Hamilton, who has been its president for the past year, for her untiring energy and zealous interest in its progress and in behalf of "Portia Society," Marjorie Watson, secretary, presented her with a beautiful initialed manicure set of French ivory and a bouquet of flowers.

NANAIMO MOTORISTS ARE PROGRESSIVE

Have Established Camp Near City for Accommodation of Tourists, Who Have Patronized It in Numbers

NANAIMO, June 10.—The Nanaimo Automobile Association, which entertained the motorists' convention yesterday, has been very active since its organization fifteen months ago. The members are proud of having established the first public auto park on the Island, which is situated a couple of hundred yards off Comox Road, on the Island Highway, in a delightful picnic area of Millstream Park, beside the spring waters of the Millstream. Increasingly well patronized last Summer, averaging six cars a day, almost all from the United States, it bids fair to be a very attractive resort for auto tourists. One car camped here for nine days last Summer, touring the Island from this headquarters. The park is equipped with cook stove, water and toilet. The officers of the association are: President, Dr. O. E. Brown; first vice-president, J. Henderson; second vice-president, R. H. Ormond; treasurer, E. H. Bird, and the genial secretary, Mr. J. F. Edge Partington. Last year's membership numbered 158. The Association is enlarging its publicity work this year. In addition to the Information Bureau, Secretary Partington will meet all boats. Two thousand guide books have been printed and a large number of circulars in an envelope picturing the Georgian Circuit are being sent out. Last year the Bureau was in touch with 24 Provinces and States. The commercial advantage to the town for last Summer is roughly reckoned at $15,000 at least. The supply of gas is plentiful, there being at present on the Island sufficient for five months, according to the statement of Mr. Chas. L. Harris, secretary of the Island Association. The local association co-operated with the Board of Trade in obtaining improved elevator accommodation at the C.P.R. wharf, and has the Government's assurance of the hard surfacing this year of the highway south to South Wellington and Cassidy.

STUDENTS' RECITAL

The students of the Dominion Academy of Music gave a very enjoyable concert this week to a crowded audience in the Academy recital hall. The following pupils gave vocal selections which were greatly appreciated, and encores were the order of the evening: Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Vye, Mrs. McKitrick, Mrs. Walkem, and the Misses Q. Lawrence Ross, M. McKay, Ellen Bridge, Norah Jones, Effie Lindsay, little Aileen Hale and Mr. Lambert Ross. The pianists were Merle North, who won a treble encore for her brilliant solos; Miss Watkin, Miss Doris Vaughan, Margaret Fletcher, Dorothy Bishop, Maude Worthington, Ivy Walkem.

The following young performers made a very creditable first appearance: Grace Macdonald, Rita Clark, Amelia and Erminia Zarelli, Violet Chitton, Phyllis Hoey, Dorothy Qualntance and Kenneth Shapland; Lorne Proctor (violin solo).

The ladies' choral class brought the concert to a close with the part-song, "When the Heart Is Young," which was beautifully rendered. These recitals are held monthly.

NOTES ON NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

By George W. Newton, of the Newton Advertising Agency

It seems to be the concensus of opinion among advertisers that the daily or rural country newspaper is paramount as a quick-action medium in that it will place a proposition before the greatest number of people in the shortest possible time, and bring results with the least delay. This is one of the advantages enjoyed by the newspaper from the standpoint of advertising, and frequently is found to be a very important advantage when the peculiar circumstances of the case make swift work necessary. For introducing a new article there is nothing quite so effective as a rapid campaign conducted through the newspapers of the localities where the article is to be sold.

To study the taste and desires of the masses; to learn the politest opinions of the people; to know what the country as a whole is doing or about to do; to see what evidence of enterprise and progress are visible—it is necessary to go to the newspaper as the faithful reporter of contemporary history, the reflex of each day's events in the life of a nation. Advertising in such a medium means results.

The external evidences of a newspaper's value as an advertising medium are: Enterprise in its conduct, prosperity in its appearance and invariability in its rates.

The newspaper atmosphere is redolent of rapidity. Therefore, the necessity of making a newspaper advertisement as forceful that it will do its work in a moment is obvious. The majority of men in business have not the ability to make a plan or "layout" for the printer, and it is not to be expected that they should have, for the simple reason that that is the business of the advertising expert who derives his livelihood solely from that of managing advertising and the writing of advertisements. If you are going to build a house you go to an architect or contractor, when you want boots you go to a shoe store, for clothes you go to the clothier and, logically, for profitable advertising you should go to the advertising agency or advertising specialist.

To most quickly succeed, certain established psychological principles must be followed. Your ad must be so arranged and set that it attracts the attention of the reader through unconscious artistic appeal. Attention is held if the copy is simple, clear, direct and convincing.

Taking it for granted that what you have to sell has merit and value; that your advertisement is properly arranged and set; that the copy is simple, clear, direct and convincing—you still need the advice and assistance of the advertising agent to place you at the least cost and at the least waste before your particular audience, always remembering that the daily newspaper is the most intimate medium in which humanity is interested. The daily advertiser is the one who succeeds; the occasional advertiser is the gambler.

THE CHARM OF CHINA TEA

Have you ever sampled that delightful tea with the delicate aroma reminiscent of peaches, or sipped the essence of jasmine flowers from a cup of pale amber colored liquid? For, if you have, you have tasted of fine Oolong or enjoyed the fragrance of Scented Orange Pekoe, just two kinds of tea out of the fifty varieties that China produces.

Although the flavor and aroma of good China tea is finer than that of any other growth of tea in the world, it is a fact that it is almost unknown to a very large section of the community today. Thirty years ago the amount of China tea consumed in this country was very much larger than present-day requirements, for India, Ceylon, and Java teas are gradually displacing the older growth.

The rare and precious grades of China tea are rapidly disappearing from the market, and with them their fine-sounding names. Some people like to read wine catalogues and gloat over curious vintages and brands, but so far as names go—China tea may claim an even greater interest; Pakling, Chunmee, Hyson, Keemun, Ningchow, Oolong, Oanfa, Oopack, Panyong, and Lesang—these are but a few.

And that is not all, for each of these names is but the family name of a thousand varieties, and each variety has a different mark or chop: Ngo Tai, Show Lun, Yung King, Hung Ying, Ngan Ee, Chung Fa, all equally unpronounceable. Imagine the skill and lifelong training needed to differentiate between all these!

To see a case or half-chest of China tea is to realize the loving care put into every pound. First comes the "mat" outer covering, made of woven rushes and bound with cane. On the "mat" is the mark and description. This latter is a work of art and shows the vivid imagination of the Chinaman (reinforced by the ingenuity of the Englishman) at its best. For instance:

Per Mail Steamer
via Suez Canal
Extra Superside Most Superbly Choice-est New Season's First Crop
KIRTUCK
Picked by the Tapered Fingers of the Almond-Eyed Maidens of the Celestial Empire.
Green Chop—CHOEY WO.

Under the matting comes the box, usually covered with crude pictures of flowers; the box is lined with lead and the tea carefully and tightly packed by hand.

All good China tea has a most exquisite and delicate flavor which, strange to say, many people do not like at first, if they have become accustomed to drinking strong India or Ceylon tea. This fine and distinctive taste, however, is the hall-mark of a digestible tea, for it is a fact that has been scientifically proved that China tea can be enjoyed with impunity by those people who find coarser growths indigestible.—C. A. L. W., in The London Daily Mail.

MORE PRETTY WOMEN

By Arthur F. Thorn in The London Daily Mail

It is curious that the surplus of women over men should be attended by a marked increase in the beauty of women generally.

No matter where one goes today there is no lack of women who are really beautiful. The plain, unattractive woman would seem to be extinct. Stand anywhere in London and note the first fifty women who pass. About thirty of them will be beautiful, and the remaining twenty, if not actually beautiful, will nevertheless be quite attractive.

Psychologists are divided in their opinions as to the real cause. Some maintain that war inevitably produces beautiful women just as war also produces a greater number of boy babies than girls. Others consider that war has enriched the emotional nature of women; has given them finer temperament and developed a new charm that comes with a deeper understanding of life.

Others are less idealistic; they say that civilization has provided women with many artificial aids to beauty—that no woman, however plain, need remain unattractive. There is undoubtedly a great deal to be said for this argument. It is quite true that the twentieth century has given women the artificial means of conquering ugliness. But this argument deals merely with the exterior beauty of women; it does not explain the spiritual charm of temperament and personality.

Athletes assert that the general increase in feminine loveliness is entirely due to the fact that more women than ever are playing open air games. Women, they say, are much healthier than they have been for many generations, and with good health have come also good looks. This is plausible, but it does not quite cover the higher values of beauty. Real beauty is something more than a purely physical thing.

Deeper than any of these suggested causes may lie the fact that women have rebelled against the cramping laws of the conventional home where beauty was not always considered an asset. Never before in the history of the world have women competed with each other in such open warfare in which charm and beauty play a much more important part than under the sheltered conditions of domestic life.

The woman today who is facing the stress of commercialism, who is participating in the intense struggle for existence and competing not only with men but with women, too, must develop as best she can those feminine qualities that are even more potent than skill and efficiency.

Modern women are expressing themselves under entirely new conditions; they are realising the irresistible force and power of loveliness. It is a very old story, but they are learning it all over again.

Bereft of women, modern commercial life would rapidly become an impossible nightmare. Women have brought color into the world of commerce; they have lent a perfume to the musty atmosphere of pounds, shillings and pence; they have come out into a saddened world that needs their beauty—and they know it.

INJUNCTION AGAINST CITY WAS REFUSED

In Supreme Court Chambers yesterday Mr. Justice Macdonald denied to the Cameron Investment Company an injunction, sought on behalf of the company by Mr. J. E. Green, restraining the City of Victoria from the use of that part of the sidewalk on Pandora Avenue which the company alleges has been built on what is known as the Bailey property. Mr. H. E. Robertson opposed the granting of the injunction, on behalf of the city. Mr. Green also asked for a mandatory order restoring the use of the property in question to the private purposes of his clients. The learned judge ruled adversely to the Cameron interests on this application also.

Mr. Green said that the position of affairs was that Mr. Bailey had acquired a mortgage on the property and had afterwards assigned that mortgage to the Cameron Investment Company. The company had not been registered as the legal owners of the property because of a question of unpaid taxes. The said taxes are disputed by the company. To cover the situation created by these conditions, Mr. Bailey had been made a party to the pending suit of the Cameron Investment Company against the City of Victoria.

The city had passed a by-law in 1911 the effect of which was to expropriate that part of the Bailey property on which the Pandora Avenue sidewalk was subsequently constructed, in 1916. The 1911 by-law had since been held to be void, by more than one decision of the courts. And Mr. Green contended that he was entitled to ask for a restraining order because the legal rights of his clients had been invaded by the city, and that such an injunction could be granted without prejudice to the issue of the impending suit.

Mr. Robertson contended that previous judgments of the courts had decided adversely to the plaintiffs on all the points raised by them in this case. The Cameron Investment Company, continued counsel, could not come into that court and complain of damages sustained through the action of the city. The company was not the registered owner of the property. Their title to it in law was therefore insufficient to support the present application to the learned judge.

Mr. Justice Macdonald said that the effect of an absolute decision by him on the points raised by counsel at this time would amount to a trial of the case. He would not grant the application made by plaintiffs at this time, but would leave the issue for the consideration of the trial judge. No further damage could accrue to the plaintiffs pending the trial of the suit.

Trade With Soviet Russia.

Sir,—In your issue of Sunday, the 6th instant, there is an article by Mr. Guy Manners, under the heading of "Britain Courts Dangerous Precedent in Flirting With Soviet Russia" and he seems unable to understand why Britain, (with the approval of France and Italy) should desire to have trade relations with Soviet Russia under Trotsky and Lenine.

Mr. Manners is a much travelled man, and he therefore cannot be accused of being parochial or narrow in therefore looking askance at Europe opening trade relations with Russia under the Soviet he must have had very good reasons for his misgivings. Personally, I know nothing of Soviet Russia beyond what has appeared in the Press, some of which charged Soviet Russia with all sorts of unmentionable crimes, and again others cannot say too much for the Soviet, and charge those who say anything to the contrary with lying. Yet, I cannot help but say that I am inclined to believe both. Russia is a big country. It is not improbable that some things may happen in a section where under a blood-thirsty brute all the crimes charged against it have been committed, and yet another one observing in another section under a humane man may have found conditions quite the opposite. However, we are not concerned with Soviet Russia just now, but the possible reasons which may have actuated Britain and her European Allies in opening trade relations with even the Soviet, with all her alleged crimes at her door.

There is an old saying that "misfortunes give us strange bed-fellows," as for instance in trying to escape from a storm we seek a cave where we find ourselves in company with a tiger or bear seeking shelter from the same storm. Mr. Manners no doubt has made a survey of the situation in the attempt to account for the seeming madness of Britain before he wrote, and it may seem presumption on my part to make suggestions to him as possible reasons, but the greatest of men sometimes overlook something, and with your permission I am proposing to suggest some of the possible reasons which may be actuating the European powers in opening trade relations.

It will be recalled that prior to the war Britain imported a large quantity of foodstuffs, such as wheat and sugar from Russia. If my recollection serves me right the importations of wheat from Russia was bigger than from the United States. During the Dardanelles operations, the mere possibility of the forcing of the Straits with the consequent access to Russian wheat, was enough to keep down the price of wheat to under $1 per bushel. The sharp rise in prices, and the resulting cornering of the world's foodstuffs by the United States can almost be directly traced to the abandoning of the Gallipoli operations, and to the inauguration of the unrestricted submarine warfare. So long as Russia is blockaded and we refuse to trade with her, so long will Europe have to submit to being bled white by those who pretend to be our friends and allies, who prate of altruism, but practise the ways of Shylock. Without wheat from Russia the world, and particularly England, must depend upon the United States for their foodstuffs, and submit to all the squeeze which the profiteers across the border know too well how to administer. It will be recalled that shortly after the armistice it was expected that the price of wheat would drop to $1.35 but the United States Government fixed here at $3.31, and as there was not enough to go round, or rather there was a fear that there might not be enough Europe had to pay for it. It is mainly the price of foodstuffs supplied by the United States which is causing the very heavy balance of trade against Europe and our "friends" know too well how to take advantage of it by debasing our currency. They have been by no means backward in declaring that Britain was bankrupt, and it was necessary to ship a full supply of "blood" in the shape of gold before "exchange" was permitted to re over from $3 to the present level.

I am suggesting, for Mr. Manners' consideration, that Britain, with the approval of France and Italy, is opening trade relations with Soviet Russia in an attempt to break the corner in necessities of life which has been maintained by the United States during the last few years. If, as a result of trading with Russia, the corner can be broken, Britain would have served humanity (without proclaiming altruistic intentions) a very good turn, and her policy should have the approval of all who have the welfare of humanity at heart, who think of the millions of starving Europe held in a strangle hold by the profiteers across the border, who seem to shape the Government policy; who with one hand give well advertised charity and with the other take back more than they give. I suppose on the principle of "let not thy right hand know what thy left doeth." One can trade with one whom one is led to regard as one's friend, only to find oneself bled white.

There is some talk of the price of wheat going up to $5 per bushel, and unless Europe, and particularly England, seeks other sources of supply, even though it be Soviet Russia, as a check, I can quite believe that with the wealth at is command, the North American continent, which will supply the bulk, will be quite capable of forcing prices up to that level and holding it. The only hope of a considerable reduction in the cost of living lies in breaking the "corner" in foodstuffs, and if Britain succeeds in doing so as a result of opening trade relations with Soviet Russia I for one would say: go it Lloyd George, and more beef to your muscle; for it seems that is the only way food will ever come down to more reachable levels for the poor man.

I have no doubt I will be charged with being unduly severe in my criticism of the American policies, but all I ask is to throw your mind back and trace the progress of exchange and the price of foodstuffs; try to find out who controls them, and you will find that there has been a corner during the last few years.

The United States is entitled to credit for having helped in many things, but she has not been backward in taking full advantage of her position (no blame to her), but I think suffering Europe is wise in looking for other sources of supply in order to be less dependent on North America, and if this forces her to open trade relations with Russia, even under the Soviet, I do not see what objections there can be to it.

H. HASTINGS.

823 Sayward Building, Victoria, B. C., June 7, 1920.

Man-Made Religions

Sir,—Occasionally things happen that make one think, even in Victoria, and though it may open up once again that almost infinitely controversial subject—religion—I would like to express thoughts that flared up in my mind under the stimulus of Mr. Spence's sermon on Sunday evening.

He told us enough and gave readings from Mrs. Eddy's famous book to make one beware of this old doctrine in its new clothing. But though he sees the great numbers of people of other churches going over to the Christian Science Church and doubtless feels the pinch, as all other ministers do, due to the loss of flock, I think he fails to see that the basic reason for this religious migration is not exclusively the attractions of the new.

Is it not possible that there is actual repulsion from the other churches besides the attraction to the new that he referred to and that the two forces working together become very effective.

I would suggest that there is this repulsion and that it is due to the other churches failing to realize to the full the evolution of humar thought and desire.

As a man of no denominational connection, I still take an interest in my fellow man's and my own groping around, and to me it is terribly regrettable that our forefathers and we ourselves have failed to produce a man or men that could evolve a religion so simple and so right that it would be applicable to all mankind. However, I have still sufficient belief in man to expect that at some time in the future he will get down to bedrock and build something worth while, though probably there will be no church buildings connected therewith.

Man, even after the coming of Christ, still goes on groping and does nothing more than produce more or less desirable collections of "dos" and "don'ts," and smears these over with a thick or thin coating of rituals or theatricals and so has his many diverse religions. Misplaced faith explains the appalling muddle to me—misplaced faith in men and men's writings—so-called inspired writings.

People are at last realizing that true science deals only with "things that are" and that there is no tomfoolery in "things that are," hence they believe in science. People want science in their religion, they want things to be able to stand criticism, and there being the need it does not take long for someone to find it out, recognize the need and make capital by promising to provide scientific religion. Whether Christian Science "delivers the goods" as ordered and paid for is another matter, and with that I am not concerned here, but the religion or cult certainly does claim to provide many things that suffering humanity craves for.

Perhaps, sir, you could tell me if there is any sect, cult or religion whose members hold somewhere of my views or whether I am an entire outsider and really hopelessly naughty from a religious person's viewpoint.

The Proposed Victoria College

Sir,—Five professors, three class rooms, ten extra pupils, $36,000 to $38,000 extra cost.

Victoria is today bearing a heavy burden due to reckless public expenditures of former years. The co-operation of all citizens is now earnestly solicited in frustrating further unsteful, wanton and extravagant expenditure.

Various estimates have been made of the probable cost of the proposed Victoria College. On January 23 Professor Klinck estimated it at $54,000; Inspector Paul later placed it at $38,300, and the Board of Trustees placed it at $36,462.35. Experience in connection with the Sooke Lake undertaking, the various local improvement schemes, and the construction of the present High School should warn Victorians to estimate liberally.

The new college is to be staffed with five professors, but is only to be equipped with three class rooms, and each professor is to be restricted to 15 hours of instruction each week. After making due allowance for lesson preparation, the five professors will doubtless find ample time in which to spend their salaries.

From 1904 to 1913 Victoria High School was affiliated with McGill University, the High School teachers giving the necessary instruction in first and second year arts courses. The cost to the city was less than $5,000 and no tuition fees were charged. The average enrolment for the first year course was 20, and the average enrolment for the second year course was 7. The average enrolment for the first year course only since 1913 (April figures) has been 36. In April, 1920, there were but 27 pupils taking the first year course and of these only 11 were graduates from a class of 111, who took the junior matriculation course.

The proposed college will also give necessary instruction in first and second arts courses, but at enormously increased cost. The first year course at the High School requires 30-35 teaching periods each week, or the full time of one teacher. The average salary of a High School teacher is $1,856. The difference between $1,856 (the present cost of the first year course) and $26,223 to $31,800 (the estimated cost of the new college) is the net cost of the second year course. Placing the number of second year students at 10 (three more than the average), it will be seen that each student will cost the ratepayers from $2,437 to $3,644 annually. It would be cheaper to pay their full board, lodging and tuition fees in Vancouver.

Not only is the scheme hopelessly unbusinesslike, it also violates every principle of enlightened and progressive democracy.

It has long been recognized that the State is the chief beneficiary of an educated citizenship. This has led progressive peoples to throw down the barriers of the past and to open the seats of learning to the children of the humblest citizens. Elsewhere, remaining barriers are in course of removal; here, non-existing barriers are about to be constructed. Hitherto the foundation principle of our educational system has been that there should be free and equal opportunities to all to rise by merit from the elementary schools to the universities. What means, then, this new proposal to impose a tuition fee of $40 to $50 each year on students who take the first and second year arts courses? Why should publicly constructed and maintained institutions be available only to the well-to-do? Surely it will be a sad day for Canada when her public educational institutions are accessible only to the privileged classes. It is estimated that not more than one-half of the present senior matriculation class could have pursued their studies in the face of such an obstacle as a $50 fee.

The Victoria College project is unprincipled, unbusinesslike, and therefore undesirable. It was not mentioned during the last School Board election. It has never been submitted to or endorsed by the citizens. It has the condemnation of many leading citizens. The trustees have been challenged to either submit it by a referendum of the people or to give facilities for a by-election to be fought on the issue. Citizens must now bring such pressure on the board as shall compel abandonment of the crazy project.

Higher Education in Victoria.

Sir,—Since the indications are that we are to be encumbered with a university college, which we did not ask for, an institution which is to dispense higher education far beyond the possibilities of an ordinary high school to grant, then a very careful selection of the staff should be made. The professors should be thoroughly versed in not only their respective departments, but should represent the highest concept of modern educational ideas. By this standard must any institution of "higher" education be measured, and only by such qualifications can the respect of the public be obtained, and retained. But if Dame Rumor is authritative, we are probably to have this college manned by those who have not even distinguished themselves in their present positions. By some strange magical spell—teachers today, professors tomorrow—fresh from the laboratories of science and education, which they have never entered, fully qualified and equipped to work half the time, and draw almost double the salary. This farce which would make the angels weep is to be the pride of Victoria.

Professors (sic.) made over-night as thoroughly qualified to represent the ideals of modern educational necessities as is the average member of the School Board to administer the same.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of the grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which is to present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. If never taken as a liquid, milk or citrate and the Bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had to "what to eat."

JOURNALIST AS AN ARTIST

By "An Englishman," in The London Daily Mail

Mr. H. G. Wells, in a letter, quoted in the admirable collection of Henry James's letters, says that he "had rather be called a journalist than an artist." There is no reason why he should not win both titles. There should be no antagonism between journalism and artistry. And if the one name excludes the other, there is a manifest failure in the work achieved.

Nor does Mr. Wells's attempt at definition help us very much. When he says that to Henry James literature was an end, to him it is a means, he does but confuse the issue. He helps us not a jot to a solution of the problem when he tells us further that he uses the word "art" for a "research and attainment that is technical and special."

Mr. James's retort seems unanswerable. "I absolutely dissent," he wrote, "from the claim that there are any differences whatever in the amenability to art of forms of literature, aesthetically determined."

It matters not what it is that a man writes. He will not be read with attention or understanding if by a conscious and artistic effort he do not attempt to harmonize his words and his thoughts. "Research and attainment" are, above all, necessary to him. It is no merit, even in the apostle, to encourage slovenliness for its own sake, and we may take it for granted that a scrupulous neatness in style, as in apparel, is demanded imperatively of journalists and artists alike.

The distinction made by Mr. Wells is justified by neither reason nor by experience. There are good writers and bad in fiction as in journalism. Many a masterpiece of artistry has lingered a day in a newspaper, as a man stays in an inn, with equal profit to guest and hostlery, and it is hardly worth while to confound a matter of policy with a question of research. The essential characters of a man's work cannot be changed by the method of its presentation.

Above all, they do a vast disservice to journalism who pretend that it should be content with the second best, that there is a kind of virtuous self-denial in climbing down to a low standard. There is no reason why journalism should be what Stevenson called it, "the school of false finish." A sketch, taken swiftly from life, may have qualities of its own as rarely artistic as the qualities of an elaborate painting. Nothing in literature is more remote from "Paradise Lost," let us say, than one of Thackeray's "Roundabout Papers." Yet we should be wrong if we denied to either of them the gift of artistry.

Addison and Steele

And the distinction implied in Mr. Wells's preference—"I had rather be called a journalist than an artist"—is a distinction that was unknown to our forefathers. When Addison and Steele delighted the town with their Spectator they were not dubbed "journalists" either in praise or in blame. They took for their subject whatever was impermanent in the life of their day. They laughed at the follies of their fellow-citizens as at the taste of those who applauded the Italian singers. They turned their kindly eyes upon the coffee-houses and upon those that haunted them.

And by the way, they invented Sir Roger de Coverly and his friends. They wrote hastily, that the industry of today might satisfy the public craving of tomorrow. The research and the attainment which Mr. Wells deplores were in every line that they wrote, because they had already mastered their craft before they put their quills to their paper, and they earned their immortality not because they were journalists who wrote for the moment, as they did, but because they were artists who wrote also for all time.

The example set by Addison and Steele was widely and variously followed. Johnson composed his Ramblers often enough with the printer's devil waiting at the door. He escaped none of the dangers of haste and pressure which beset the journalist. Yet is there in his work no trace of false finish or of confused thought. He thought like a philosopher and wrote like an artist, because philosophy and artistry were innate in him. He called upon his genius, and it did not fail him even when he fought against time. He, at least, could never have professed shame at the high attainment to which years of patient and humble research had brought him.

Defoe as Reporter

And long before Johnson and Goldsmith had proved that artistry was an essential part of journalism, Defoe and Swift had shown in their pamphlets that even controversy might be raised by genius into rarer air of literature. So vivid was Defoe's talent of reporting what he had not seen that he could call up the plague of London from the past, or describe the storm which swept over England when he was shut up in prison, with equal verisimilitude.

And Swift himself, the master-ironist, who could write well about a broomstick, did not disdain on the one hand to make journalism the handmaid of his art, and did not pretend, on the other, that there was any merit in sacrificing his research or in falling below the highest point of his attainment. He said what he chose, he convinced others of the truth of what he said, because his gifts were "technical and special."

In the last century Lamb and Hazlitt were loyal to the sane and sound tradition of the past. They were journalists by profession and artists by temperament. And it is their temperament and not their profession which has kept their works as fresh and true today as they were when they wrote them. Such are some of the journalists whose writings have come down to us, and we value them not for the accident which confined them for a day or a week or a month to newspaper or review, but for the noble qualities of "research and attainment" which have made them free of all the world and of all time.

But when Mr. Wells proudly claims the title of "journalist," he attaches, I think, a special meaning to it. For him the journalist is the preacher. When Coleridge asked Lamb if he would like to hear him preach, Lamb replied that he had never heard him do anything else. And Mr. Wells has seldom done anything else. He preaches in and out of season. He instructs others that in the process he may learn himself. He turns a listening ear to his own sermons. What interests him most deeply is "propaganda," and in this barren quest he would sternly separate himself from artistry. Yet even here the artist has the better of him in the long run. For the artist knows how to color his sermon with all the tints of an enduring beauty and to send down the ages that which, without the aid of his art, would perish in an hour.

Nor shall we see the perfect journal until all journalists are artists, until even in the daily Press "research and attainment" come to the aid of a seeing eye and a critical brain.

The Raffle Question

Sir,—Will you please give me the opportunity of replying through your paper to the letters inserted in previous editions of same relating to Mr. C. Harris and his efforts. I think, Sir, it is only fitting that someone should direct the public attention to another phase of this question of raffles and crusade work, as it has been termed.

In the first place, while on the surface it seems strange to many that a person like Mr. Harris should have the nerve to bring people or peoples to account for having done, as has been suggested, "someone else a good turn," I feel sure that many who have read the charges and letters on the question have lost sight of a great moral issue which is at stake, namely: It is not a question between those prosecuted and Mr. Harris, but a question of law and its observance. I am safe in saying this much, Mr. Harris has no axe to grind, but as a Christian man and citizen of our city wishes to see laws observed and enforced relating to moral questions. We have allowed too many breaks in the past on many of such important matters, which deal with the morals of our country without a protest whatever. Mr. Harris is not responsible for the laws on the statute books, or for their enforcement, either, but as a "citizen of no mean city" he takes up his own responsibility and endeavors to bring before the authorities whose duty it is to do this thing, namely, see to the carrying out or observing of these laws without any favor to anyone, their responsibility.

It is not a question of a mere helmet being raffled—that is only a small thing—but a much larger question—law observance. We all as citizens would do well to say to this Mr. Harris, "Much obliged for bringing this to our attention." Instead of that, we ask, "Who is this that troubleth Victoria?" If our moral laws are allowed to be dodged by people when they please, pray what kind of example are you going to place before the children of our country?

I am sure there are others who could have taken up the defence of Mr. Harris better than myself.

CLEANLINESS IS HEALTH

By the use of Gillett's Lye, house cleaning is made a pleasure instead of a drudgery. It softens the water and cleans thoroughly whether the dirt is visible or invisible. Destroys all bacteria and infectious germs, removes obstructions from drain pipes, closets, sinks, etc. Refrigerators are made delightfully fresh and clean by using one teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in two gallons of water.

HOW LIKE CHOOSES LIKE

I remarked that Mr. and Mrs. Brown looked very much alike.

"That is because they have been married so long," Joan said.

"Nonsense," exclaimed the iconoclast. "It is because they have always looked alike. Marriage has nothing to do with it."

The iconoclast was assailed from every quarter. "That is sacrilege," said Joan. "Think of the beautiful poems and romances founded on the gradually growing resemblance of Darby and Joan."

"Fables, every one of them," the iconoclast maintained. "Everyone except the sentimentalist admits that now. It is not true that the association of years makes aged married couples look alike. The resemblances are sometimes there, but they are not caused by association. Where this likeness exists in elderly couples it existed, though perhaps less noticeably, owing to undevelopment of form and character, when the couples were young. Indeed, there are more young married couples who look alike than elderly couples, for in development they may lose the early conformity of feature."

Indignation held the rest of us speechless, so the iconoclast talked on.

"Thinkers who have given this matter serious consideration discredit the charm of dissimilarity," he said. "The chief investigator, a Frenchman, was struck with the frequent resemblances between young couples while staying at a coast resort inhabited principally by 'honeymooners.' At first he took the brides and bridegrooms who looked alike to be cousins, but the resemblances were too common to admit of this theory.

"At last, in his investigation, he went to a leading photographer who was patronized by bridal couples. After eliminating all photographs which had been retouched, all those of cousins known to be cousins, and those whose resemblance was due to similarity of expression rather than of features, he found that he had photographs of 151 married couples, of whom 118 were young couples and 33 old couples. The investigator thus came to the conclusion that people are led to marry according to the law of conformity, not according to contrast. They are especially attracted by like pigmentation. With some people the dislike of another of different coloring amounts to a feeling of repulsion.

"It is perfectly clear now that the majority seek similarity, not dissimilarity. The tall man is looking for a woman whose eyes are on a level with his own; the dark man wants a woman with black hair; the fair woman prefers a ruddy blonde; the short woman rejects the man who would look down on her from a giddy height."

"But how is it, then," Joan inquired, "that one so often sees a tall man married to a little woman, an Othello to a Desdemona?"

"The answer is that we don't," the iconoclast replied. "It is the rarity of the thing that makes it noticeable."

"Your scientists may be right," Joan said, "but I prefer the romantic theory. It is more beautiful and more comfortable."—Emma M. Wise, in The London Daily Mail.

SEVENTY WOOD SHIPS TIED UP BY BOARD

Least Profitable of U.S. Government Fleet Lying in Atlantic Ports—Reported the Ships Are to Be Sold

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Allocation lists made public at the Shipping Board today show that seventy wooden vessels have been tied up with caretakers. These are distributed among New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Boston and New Orleans. It was learned unofficially that these vessels are the ones which under operation have proved to be unprofitable. The ships recently allocated to the coal trade are said to be of a more desirable type and are not affected by the order retiring other vessels.

Reports are current among steamship operators in Washington to the effect that negotiations are now under way for the disposal of a large number of less desirable wood ships at about $60 a ton, as against $90 a ton which has been asked for ships of this type. No announcement has been made on this point and officials of the board could not be reached tonight for a confirmation or a denial.

The Anderson Overseas Corporation has a contract for the sale of the wooden ships abroad, but up to the present has found greater success in disposing of the smaller steel cargo ships.

FOUR VESSELS AT YARROWS' PLANT

Amur, Whaler Black, Armentiers and Princess Alice Having Work Done at Yard

The steamer Amur, the whaler Black, the fisheries patrol boat Armentiers, and the C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice were all at the Yarrows plant last evening.

The Amur is completing extensive overhaul and has had a new tail shaft and propeller put in place. She recently came out of the graving dock, and expected to get away today.

The Princess Alice has been on the marine railway undergoing cleaning and painting, and went into the water again last night. She will shortly go on the Skagway run.

The Black is down from Kyuquot for engine-room repairs.

Now that the engineering department of the naval yard is closed, the fisheries protection boats must suffer private concerns to attend to their needs. So it happens that the Armentiers is at Yarrows.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners navigating Nanaimo Harbor are herewith notified that the Public Works Department rock crusher No. 1 is anchored forty feet from the Western Fuel Coal Company's wharf, and has six cables extending out into the harbor covering a space of approximately 150 feet by 115 feet.

Any cable will be lifted when signalled to do so by an approaching steamer.

On the completion of the work, the rock crusher will be taken away.

YOUTHFUL SKIPPER

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 10.—The Elinor B., a large lumber schooner recently launched at Dockton for Grays Harbor trade, is loading at the Eureka mill here, and will sail with 3,000,000 feet of lumber on her maiden trip in a few days. She is 258 feet in length, has a beam of 40 feet and draws 23 feet of water under loading. Captain Chris Enderson is in command. He is said to be the youngest ship commander in the Northwest, being well under 30 years of age. His brother Ralph sails with him.

PATRICIA IN PORT

The Princess Patricia arrived here yesterday for overhaul on the Victoria Machinery Depot marine railway. She will be her until Sunday, the Princess Mary taking her run until that time.

The C. P. R. barge W. M. Case has been brought around from Esquimalt, where she has lain for some time, filled with coal. The coal is being put onto the end of the C. P. R. dock for use by the coal burners. The Case will go back to her old berth at Kingston Wharf.

POWERFUL COMBINATION

Advices from the Orient state that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Osaka Shosen Kaisha, Toyo Kisen Kaisha and a number of other large Japanese steamship companies have decided to join the Japan Ship Owners' Association. A powerful league of Japanese ship owners is expected to result from the amalgamation. This action is believed to have been taken to offset the inroads made into the Japanese carrying trade by the United States and British shipping operators since the war.

ADMIRAL AWAY

The naval head left for the Mainland on Wednesday afternoon, starting across the continent on the Trans-Canada, yesterday afternoon.

NAVIGATION OPENS ON YUKON RIVER

First Steamer for Season Leaves Dawson for Outside —Shortage Reported In Many Lines of Staples

DAWSON, Y.T., June 10.—The steamer Tanana, the first of the year from Fairbanks and other Lower Yukon points, arrived here today, connecting with the Canadian, the first steamer sailing this year for White Horse, at the head of Yukon navigation.

The Canadian is expected to go through Lake La Barge without delay. Her passengers probably will be in Seattle and Vancouver within ten days, thus establishing navigation throughout the northland.

All reports state the heaviest tourist traffic in the history of the Yukon Valley is booked for this season. Steamers from Lower Yukon bring clean bills of health. The same prevails throughout this territory.

Arrivals from Fairbanks today include United States Marshal Irwin with five insane patients and a number of prisoners for Coast institutions.

Lake La Barge, the last link in Yukon navigation to open, is now breaking. It is expected the first steamer for White Horse from Dawson will get through the lake on Monday.

Dawson is short of many lines of staples. It is entirely out of fresh meats and poultry. The only meats in the market comprise canned and smoked meats, native fish, big game and native eggs.

Many lines of groceries are exhausted, but there are plenty of native potatoes and other vegetables, so the camp is cleaning up all old stocks thoroughly by the time the first boats bring fresh supplies.

FOREIGN SHIPPING GETS BRITISH SAILORS

Higher Wages Attracting Many Experienced Officers and Seamen to U.S. and Orient

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Experienced British officers and seamen on the Pacific Coast are being taken up eagerly by foreign companies, and it is felt among the organizations of officers and of sailors that the time may come shortly when there will be an actual shortage of qualified A.B.'s and certified officers.

The sailors are drifting to the United States to get signed on with American companies, preferring to work for the higher wages the Americans are paying. Seamen in the United States merchant marine service get $80 a month. Though it is reported they are required to take out United States citizenship papers, this is said not to be acting as a serious deterrent.

The matter of certified officers is also causing comment. There is to be a splendid opportunity for them in the Chinese merchant marine. That great republic is fast developing a great fleet and is manning it with white officers and native crews. The British officers, possessing as they do the highest reputations as seafaring men, are favored when they make application for positions, and the result has been that many have gone from Vancouver to China within the past few months, and more are due to sail. The Chinese Government is paying high wages, it is reported, for qualified white officers.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Bids for the sale of the Leviathan, the largest ship in the American merchant marine, will be received June 30 by the shipping board.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

Prices Move Up and Down in Purposeless Fashion—Moderate Rally Is Quickly Followed by Selling Pressure

NEW YORK, June 10.—Apart from an expected rise in call loans to 12 per cent, and a slight increase of breadth and activity, today's stock market differed in no essential from recent sluggish and inconclusive sessions.

The trend of events at Chicago was followed with greater interest, a moderate rally ensuing on news that an agreement had been reached regarding the treaty plank. The improvement proved of short duration, however, another general reversal setting in when rails lost ground.

The maximum rate for money came just before the close, and afforded a pretext for further pressure upon industrials and specialties. The only noteworthy exceptions at the finish were Vanadium Steel and Consolidated Textile.

Sales amounted to 600,000 shares.

Announcement of the new capital offering by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway was not accepted as a bullish factor, traders acting on the assumption that other railroads would also come into the money market for new equipment and construction. United States Steel moved within narrow bounds, even after publication of the May tonnage figures, showing an increase of almost 600,000 tons. This brings the amount of unfilled orders up to the largest total since June, 1917.

Prospects of additional gold imports were heightened by the weekly statement of the Bank of England, which disclosed another large gain in that institution's holdings of the precious metal. Well informed financial interests professed to have no knowledge, however, of gold movement to this centre, and rates on London were relatively lower.

Liberty issues were lower. Total sales of bonds, par value, $14,675,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian West. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the Dry Dock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

EARTHQUAKES VISIT TUSCANY REGION

LONDON, June 10.—Considerable damage has been done in Tuscany by earth shocks, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome, dated Wednesday.

A Central News dispatch on June 5 reported two violent earthquake shocks at Ferrara, Northeastern Italy. Tuscany is across the Apenine range from Ferara, lying on the west coast of the peninsula, well toward its northern part.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF MERCHANTS BANK

Report Shows Remarkable Increase of Assets and Shareholders Participate Largely In Prosperity

The annual statement of the Merchants Bank of Canada, for the year ending April 30, shows a remarkable increase both in the volume of business and in the strength and character of the assets, as well as in the profits derived by the shareholders of the bank.

The total amount of assets is now in excess of 197 million dollars, being an increase of nearly 31 million dollars for the year. About $2,800,000 of this increase is not accompanied by any increase of liabilities to the public, being due to the issue of $1,400,000 of capital stock, now fully paid up, and to the increase of the rest fund by $700,000 of premium on the new stock, and $700,000 out of profits. The chief cause of the increase in the volume of business is the growth of deposits, which are now over 163 million dollars, and have increased during the year by almost 25,000,000.

Against its total public liabilities of just under 180 million dolars, the bank holds quick assets amounting to over seventy-two and a half million dollars, or a ratio of nearly 40.81 per cent.

In spite of the strength of its liquid position, the bank is doing an immense amount of work for the assistance of current business in Canada, as is shown in the current loans and discounts in the Dominion, which now total $113,198,913.

Net profits for the year were the greatest in the history of the bank, amounting to $1,686,156, an increase of $300,000 over the previous year. A bonus of 1 per cent was added to the regular 12 per cent dividend, so that the total distribution to the shareholders amounted to $1,068,286, while $700,000 was added to the Rest Fund, and $100,000 was written off premises account, the balance carried forward being $260,774.

The average amount of stock ranking for dividend during the year was about $8,200,000, so that the average earnings were at the rate of about 20.48 per cent, but the capital employed in producing these earnings was not only the paid-up stock, but also the corresponding amount of Rest Fund, which is similarly the property of the shareholders.

The entire statement reflects the highest credit upon the directors, headed by Sir H. Montagu Allan, and the general manager, Mr. D. C. Macarow.

SAYS LEGISLATORS WERE OFFERED BRIBES

LONDON, Ont., June 10.—"The sum of money offered to representatives of the people to pass certain pieces of legislation during the last session of the Legislature was appalling," was the startling statement made by Andrew Hicks, United Farmers of Ontario whip, in an address to the East Middlesex United Farmers of Ontario picnic here yesterday.

"But, thank God," he added, "not one of our United Farmers of Ontario succumbed to the attempted bribery."

There is a small shack and some outbuildings and also 15 cords of wood piled on the property; these go with it. It is 6 miles from the city and about five minutes' walk from the B. C. The Merchants Bank of Canada

Proceedings of the Fifty-Seventh Annual Meeting of the Shareholders on June 2nd, 1920

The Fifty-seventh Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Merchants Bank of Canada was held Wednesday, June 2, in the Board Room at the Bank's Head Office at Montreal. The meeting was called to order at 12 o'clock, noon.

Among those in attendance were: Sir H. Montagu Allan, Mr. K. W. Blackwell, Mr. Thomas Long, Mr. A. J. Dawes, Mr. F. Howard Wilson, Mr. Farquhar Robertson, Mr. George L. Caine, Mr. Alfred B. Evans, Lieut.-Colonel Jas. R. Moodie, Hon. Lorne C. Webster, Mr. E. W. Kneeland, Directors, and Messrs. Walter Wilson, John Patterson, Edward Fiske (Joliet), Arthur Browning, A. D. Thornton, Colin Campbell, Thomas Stapleton (Oshawa), R. S. White, S. M. Baylis, W. B. Blackader, David Kinghorn, A. Haig Sims, Andrew A. MacDougall, W. M. Ramsay, T. E. Merrett, A. B. Patterson, P. C. Schaefer, W. J. Finucan, F. J. Shreve, W. A. Meldrum, J. N. Lorrain, J. M. Kilbourn, F. L. MacGachen, J. G. Muir, James Elmsly, H. R. Little, A. McFayden, C. A. Harcourt, R. H. Arkell, W. B. Leitch.

On motion of Mr. John Patterson, the President, Sir H. Montagu Allan, was asked to take the chair.

Mr. J. M. Kilbourn was appointed Secretary of the meeting and read the notice calling the meeting.

The minutes of the last Annual Meeting were taken as read.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The President, Sir H. Montagu Allan, then presented the Annual Report, as follows:

I beg to submit, on behalf of the Directors, the Fifty-seventh Annual Statement of The Merchants' Bank of Canada as at the close of business on the evening of the 30th April, 1920, together with a statement of the Profits covering the relative period.

Despite the fact that operating costs have continued their upward course, the net profits resulting from the year's business were $1,686,156.15, being an increase over last year of $302,586.75.

The financial position of the Bank, as reflected in detail in the Balance Sheet before you, will, I hope, meet with your full approbation.

In the Directors' Report of a year ago I mentioned that an issue of $1,400,000 of new stock was being made, and that, owing to the date of allotment, this step would fall for comment more appropriately at the next Annual Meeting. I am now pleased to advise you that the issue was promptly taken up and long since paid for in full by the shareholders. The Paid-up Capital of the Bank, therefore, stands today at $8,400,000, while the $700,000 premium received from the new issue and $700,000 transferred from Profit and Loss Account have been added to the Reserve, thus maintaining that Fund upon an equal basis with the Paid-up Capital.

You have already been advised that, in line with the growth of the Bank, and with a view of keeping pace fairly and reasonably with the legitimate requirements of our ever-growing clientele, a further issue of $2,100,000 of new stock, upon the same favorable terms to the shareholders, is now under way. This new issue will appropriately be referred to again a year hence.

It may be of interest to mention that the Bank's shareholders now number 2,632, as against 2,406 in 1919, and 2,340 in 1918.

At the commencement of the Bank's fiscal year presently under review, the Directors felt warranted in placing the Dividend on a regular 12% basis, and also, later, in distributing a bonus of 1%, making in all 13% received by the shareholders during the twelve month period. No doubt their action in this respect will have your full approval.

During the year we opened 65 Branches, with a number of sub-agencies as feeders, and I may say that results have amply justified our action, as evidenced by the fact that we have only closed 2 Branches during the period.

In December last our office in London, England, was opened for business and already gratifying progress has been made in the building up of a London connection, while the facilities afforded our clientele on this side have greatly enhanced the value of the services we are enabled to extend to them. It had been apparent for some time that the growth and increasing importance of the institution called for the completion of our organization by the establishment of an office in the Capital of the Empire.

During the year we conceived it to be advisable and expedient, in keeping with modern and approved practice, to liquify to some extent the inactive asset represented by Bank Premises Account, which, as you are aware, must, with the growth of the Bank, be an ever-expanding one. We accordingly turned over certain of our premises to a subsidiary company called the Merchants' Realty Corporation, who in turn issued Bonds against the respective properties to the amount of $4,000,000, the proceeds of the sale of which have been appropriately applied. These Bonds are of a serial nature and will be thus automatically amortized as they fall in for payment, control of the property being held by the Bank through the ownership of all the stock of the Company, this being shown upon our books at a nominal figure.

Since the last Meeting, death has removed from our midst Mr. E. F. Hebden, formerly General Manager of the Bank and, for a period, Managing Director. His service in the institution was lifelong and in his demise the financial community lost a distinctive and distinguished personality, the Bank an able and experienced administrator. His death is regarded with deep regret by all.

The vacancy upon the Board has been filled by the appointment of Mr. E. W. Kneeland, of Winnipeg, a business man of wide experience and influence in the West.

In view of the continued growth of the Bank's business, the Directors are of opinion it would be desirable to enlarge the numerical strength of the Board by adding one more to their number, and an amendment to this effect of the relative by-law will be submitted for your approval. The name of Mr. Gordon M. McGregor, of Windsor, Vice-President of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, will accordingly be included in the list, which will be submitted to you in due course. He is a man of high standing in the commercial community, and we are sure of your agreement with the Directors that he will prove an acquisition to the Board.

You may be interested to learn that I made a trip last autumn through Ontario and the West—accompanied by some of the Directors and the General Manager. We met all the senior officers, and I have pleasure in saying that I found the trip both inspiring and beneficial to a degree.

We have undoubtedly an efficient staff and you will, I am sure, join with the Directors in extending to its members, one and all, a word of cordial appreciation for their capable and loyal services, to which the measure of progress the Bank has enjoyed is in no small extent attributable.

All the various offices of the Bank have been inspected during the past twelve months.

The Auditors' Certificate is appended.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

H. MONTAGU ALLAN,
President.

REPORT OF THE AUDITORS TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA.

In accordance with the provisions of sub-Sections 19 and 20 of Section 56 of the Bank Act, we report to the shareholders as follows:—

We have examined the above Balance Sheet with the Books of Account and other records at the Chief Office of the Bank and with the signed returns from the Branches and Agencies and have checked the cash and verified the securities of the Bank at the Chief Office against the entries in regard thereto in the books of the Bank at 30th April, 1920, and at a different time during the year and found them to agree with such entries. We also attended at some of the Branches during the year and checked the cash and verified the securities held at the dates of our attendances and found them to agree with the entries in regard thereto in the books of the Bank.

We have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. In our opinion, the transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have been within the powers of the Bank, and the above Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

In moving the adoption of the report, Sir Montagu Allan said: "After my formal address I wish to add just a few words, and I apologize to Mr. Macarow for doing so, because it is somewhat of a personal matter, but I think on this occasion it should be referred to.

"I wish to say that the day before yesterday I and the members of the board were notified by a member of the staff of the bank that a very important affair was to take place in the board room here yesterday afternoon. We attended, and were agreeably surprised to find that the business in hand was a presentation to our General Manager, Mr. D. C. Macarow.

"I have not secured his permission to mention this matter, but take the opportunity of doing so, because it was a decidedly unique event, of which neither he nor I nor the directors had any previous knowledge.

"It turned out to be a spontaneous gift from all the members of the bank's staff from Vancouver to Halifax, a magnificent silver tea service, one of the most beautiful things I have ever seen, with other objets d'art.

"The presentation was the occasion of several very happy addresses from members of the staff, with an address which they presented Mr. Macarow, along with their gift, and led to a particularly illuminating reply from the General Manager, which, needless to say, brought down the house.

"It is with particular pleasure that I inform the shareholders of this event, because it is of interest to you all to know that the General Manager and the staff are in such close accord, and have such friendly personal relations. We of the board have every confidence in Mr. Macarow, and from what we saw in the west last year, there was no doubt of the friendly feelings of the staff everywhere towards him. As an evidence of the friendly and confident relations that exist between Mr. Macarow and the staff all over Canada I think yesterday's function was one of the most agreeable and unique I have been privileged to witness for a long time, and I congratulate Mr. Macarow on the regard he has won from the bank staff throughout the whole Dominion." (Applause.)

The president then made the formal resolution for the adoption of the annual report, seconded by Mr. K. W. Blackwell.

THE GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS

The General Manager, Mr. D. C. Macarow, in rising to make his address, was received with much applause from the shareholders. He said:

"In the first place I must say that the personal onslaught made upon myself by the president is as unexpected as it is kindly. I was deeply touched by the presentation so spontaneously made to myself by the staff throughout the country. I view the presentation with mixed feelings, appreciation of the kindly intent it showed, and doubt as to my own merits. However, I accepted it in the spirit in which it was given, and it will always be one of my most prized possessions.

"The President's address forms a comprehensive epitome of all the important phases of the Bank's present position, and has appropriately dealt with or touched upon the several outstanding developments which have taken place during the past fiscal year.

"I shall, therefore, but add a brief word of amplification as to some features of the statement which it occurs to me may be enlarged upon without unnecessary repetition.

"Another Victory Loan last autumn was again heavily subscribed to by the Bank's clientele throughout the country, their total subscriptions reaching the large sum of $41,770,000, practically all of which (conversions being negligible in amount) was a direct charge against our deposits. Yet the resultant heavy withdrawal was not only overtaken, but deposit totals show an increase, in addition, over last year, of $24,900,000. This must be considered a satisfactory achievement, I think.

"Commercial Discounts have, in natural course, advanced also, and the total now stands at $113,198,000, being an increase during the year of $17,324,000. These figures indicate that the Bank is continuing to carry its full share of the lead in a period when the support and encouragement of the productive capacity and energies of the country is a matter of paramount importance. If stable conditions are to be reasonably maintained, it is essential that the vital channels of commerce and industry be kept open and, I venture to assert, in functioning as the above figures reflect, the Bank is playing its part to that end.

"At last year's Annual Meeting I made reference to our Asset column as representing dollar for dollar of actual value, and I make the same assertion today with equal emphasis.

"The record of growth this year leads me to feel that a few figures showing our progress, taking the last five years as a basis of comparison, may be of some interest to you. The totals and percentages are as follows, based on the year-end figures as at 30th April, 1915, and 30th April this present year:

	1915	1920	Gain
Total deposits	$64,000,000	$161,000,000	151%
Current loans and discounts	47,461,000	113,198,000	138%
Total assets	86,190,000	197,387,000	129%

a satisfactory and evenly balanced measure of development, you will, I am sure, agree.

"If I may be permitted to add a word as to general conditions I will be brief, for the subject has been dealt with from platform, pulpit and press so exhaustively that I cannot say much without wearisome reiteration. I fear it must be admitted, however, that the progress of this country, and indeed of the world at large, toward normal peace conditions has not been what we looked forward to a year ago. Unsettlement continues, labor and other difficulties abound, and the dominant need of the time, Production, is palpably inert and backward. So long as production lags, so long will high prices and general inflation continue. Costs are mounting to ever higher levels and the process of deflation with the necessary changes in ideas, in habits and in outlook to something more approaching those of normal conditions can hardly be said yet to be in real evidence, though sporadic and somewhat spectacular cutting of prices in certain seasonal lines of manufactured goods may perhaps be accepted as a psychological sign showing that the trend, at least, is in the right direction.

"The demand for borrowed capital continues to be more or less importunate and it is in the conservation of credit and the equitable rationing of it that Banks can play and, indeed, are playing a sound constructive role. Legitimate productive enterprises are being fostered and encouraged fairly, while at the same time a firmly restraining hand is held upon unproductive, non-essential and speculative undertakings. This policy of selective curtailment, so to put it, operating as it does at the very root of existing evils, and applied with due judgment, discrimination and consistency, cannot but prove a beneficial corrective and an importantly contributing factor towards restoring, with a minimum of dislocation and disturbance, healthy and normal conditions in the body politic.

"I might here venture to say that it is a matter of gratification to see our mercantile marine growing apace and to know that the Government will have, it is understood, some 45 merchant vessels in commission by the end of July next. I mentioned last year, and I reaffirm the opinion then expressed, that there is nothing of greater national importance than the establishment of our own lines of ocean transport, and what has been and is being accomplished in this direction, both by the Government and by private enterprise, augurs well for the future safety and stability of the country's trade and commerce.

"After what looked like in some respects an ominous start the crop situation throughout the country now seems to justify the belief that good yields will be secured this year. Predictions, however, are futile and we can only nurse the hope that actual results will fairly measure up to present optimistic estimates. Certainly, on the theory of averages alone, we are entitled to look for some redress in the crop situation this year. Much depends upon it, more especially in view of the disappointing results of the last two years, and if nature is benevolent in the coming harvest this country will benefit to an unmeasured extent, and we shall be reasonably in a position to view the period of deflation, upon the threshold of which we stand, with feelings of confidence as to our immediate future—as to our ultimate future there need be no misgiving, for it must be borne in mind that Canada is a young and virile country of almost limitless possibilities and immense natural resources awaiting development, that its manhood is strong, enterprising, thoughtful and sane.

"While we have our readjustment difficulties to deal with, our progress through the transition period will be orderly and well-conducted if there is a fair measure of mutual appreciation of surrounding difficulties and reasonable co-operation and good will all along the line in surmounting them. In a word, if the wise and reasonable policy so briefly and clearly condensed in the three simple words 'give and take' continues to operate with cordial uninterruption we shall move with steady and assured step to the great destiny which lies before us through wide-open avenues of peace, progress and prosperity.

"Before closing I would like to add my tribute of appreciation to the staff of the Bank for their devotion and efficiency. I cannot do so better than by saying that the President's apt and graceful remarks there anent have my unqualified and unrestricted endorsement. It is true, indeed, that the progress of the Bank is in no small measure due to the co-operative efforts of a loyal, capable and contented staff. That, I know, we have."

Before putting the motion for the adoption of the Report, the Chairman invited questions or discussion. There being none, he put the motion, which was unanimously adopted.

It was moved by Mr. A. Haig Sims, seconded by Mr. David Kinghorn, that Messrs. Vivian Harcourt and Gordon Tansley, of Deloitte, Plender, Griffiths & Co., be reappointed Auditors of the Bank, to hold office until the next Annual Meeting.

On motion of Messrs. K. W. Blackwell and Farquhar Robertson, it was proposed: "That By-law 111, enacted by the Shareholders of the Bank, be and is hereby amended by substituting the word 'fifteen' for the word 'fourteen' in the first line thereof." This was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Messrs. A. Haig Sims and David Kinghorn, Messrs. John Patterson and Arthur Browning were, by unanimous vote, appointed Scrutineers, and instructed to cast one ballot for the election of the following persons as directors:

Sir H. Montagu Allan
Mr. K. W. Blackwell
Mr. Thomas Long
Sir Frederick Orr Lewis, Bart.
Hon. C. C. Ballantyne
Mr. A. J. Dawes
Mr. F. Howard Wilson
Mr. Farquhar Robertson
Mr. Geo. L. Caine
Mr. Alfred B. Evans
Mr. T. Ahearn
Lt.-Col. Jas. R. Moodie
Hon. Lorne C. Webster
Mr. E. W. Kneeland
Mr. Gordon M. McGregor

The ballot having been cast, the Directors as named were declared to be elected.

Mr. A. Haig Sims—"Before this meeting concluded I wish to move a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation to the President and Directors for their services during the past year, which have made it possible to present the splendid report we have heard today. With this I would like to couple the thanks of the Shareholders to the General Manager and all members of the staff throughout the country for their efficient and loyal services to the Bank, which have contributed in no small degree to enabling the Directors to carry on their work for the advancement of the Bank."

This was seconded by Mr. A. A. MacDougall, and carried, with applause, after which a brief address of thanks was made by the President for himself and the Directors, and by the General Manager for himself and the Staff.

This concluded the business of the meeting, which then adjourned.

At a subsequent special meeting of the Directors, Sir H. Montagu Allan was re-elected President, and Mr. K. W. Blackwell, Vice-President.
